

Kohler Strike Quiz 'Really Disgrace,' Reuther Maintains

McClellan
Hopes to End Probe Today

Washington — (AP) — Walter Reuther, primed for a third day of verbal dueling with senate racketers, said today the inquiry into the marathon Kohler strike is "really a disgrace."

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the special senate committee called an unusual Saturday session in an effort to conclude Reuther's testimony and wind up the month-long investigation of violence in the Kohler dispute.

Reuther is president of the United Auto Workers which nearly four years ago went on strike against the Kohler Co. He has conceded that some UAW members engaged in violence, but he said the violence was provoked by the company.

Charges Politics
McClellan said he plans to let the sometimes angry sparring between Reuther and Sens. Goldwater (R-Ariz) and Curtis (R-Neb) run "to the end of the day or the end of the hearing, whichever comes first."

Reuther said in advance of today's session that the whole inquiry, in his words, is loaded with politics.

"This is really a disgrace," he told newsmen.

The outspoken labor leader said it is "a lot of nonsense" for senators to devote time to the Kohler case while congress is trying to solve the problems of more than five million unemployed, the farm issue and "the communist threat."

The even-tempered tone of Reuther's testimony ended suddenly yesterday when the UAW president angrily accused Goldwater of attempting a "smear."

Reuther's "smear" charge came when Goldwater produced a picture purportedly showing Jess Ferrazza, administrative assistant to the UAW's Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey, and three others beating up a man during the 1941 Ford strike in Detroit.

Beaten Up, Charge
In an angry shout, Reuther denounced it as "an isolated picture." It didn't show UAW members were fighting "a defensive battle" against gangsters, he said, adding that this was harking back to an era when Harry Bennett, then head of the Ford plant police, was using "thousands of gangsters."

"They beat us up," Reuther said. "The police wouldn't protect us. We had to defend ourselves. Sure that was wrong. But how did we get into that sort of thing?"

The answer, he continued, was that Bennett had the police "in his vest pocket" and that gangsters were beating and actually killing UAW members.

Railroad Museum Gets House Recognition

Washington — (AP) — Official recognition of the National Railroad Museum at Green Bay, Wis., was unanimously approved by the house Friday.

The resolution was sent to the senate. It seeks no appropriations or other obligations from the government.

4 Persons Die On Highways Of Wisconsin

Traffic Accident
Death Toll for Year Grows to 147

Milwaukee — (AP) — A 3-year-old Beloit boy and a Minnesota student nurse were injured fatally in separate auto accidents Friday night as Wisconsin's 1958 highway death toll reached 147.

A Milwaukee couple was killed in an automobile-train collision. On this date one year ago the state had 180 fatalities.

Miss Valerie Leak, 18, Worthington, Minn., a student nurse at University of Minnesota Hospitals in Minneapolis, died Friday night at Madison hospital of injuries suffered when the car she was driving veered off U. S. Highway 12, east of Madison, and hit a culvert.

Falls Out of Auto
Injured in the same accident were Lorenza Cesar, 32, and Joseph O. Rickman, 26, both of Minneapolis. Rickman was treated at the hospital and released but Cesar was reported in critical condition today.

Justin D. Brandenburg, 3, of rural Beloit, died in a Janesville hospital this morning of injuries suffered Friday night when he fell out of the car operated by his father, Paul Brandenburg, as the vehicle came to a stop on Highway 51 four miles south of Janesville.

The Rock county sheriff's department said the youngster apparently thinking the car had stopped, opened the door while the automobile still was in motion and fell out.

Edward Kleinfirth, 62, of Edgerton was killed, and his wife, Genevieve, 48, was injured fatally Friday when their car and a Milwaukee Road passenger train collided at a crossing in Edgerton. Kleinfirth was thrown under the wheels of the train. His wife died in a hospital.

Williams Ready to Extradite Gunaca if Conditions are Met

Lansing, Mich. — (AP) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams says he will extradite John Gunaca, a former United Auto Workers member, to Wisconsin to face an assault charge if that state guarantees Gunaca a fair trial away from the Sheboygan area.

Gunaca is accused of felonious assault in the beating of a non-striking Kohler Co. worker during the UAW strike.

Williams reiterated his position Friday as "a legal judgment for the purpose of protecting the right of a Michigan citizen accused of a crime."

"Anytime Gunaca can be assured of a trial away from the Sheboygan area where the Kohler plant is located, I will extradite him immediately," the Michigan governor said.

William Stacey, 23, Chicago, Reaches out between bars to embrace his wife Friday after he was found guilty of murder in the knife slaying of Mrs. Darlene Todd, 16. The criminal court jury sentenced Stacey to 299 years in prison. Stacey was in Mrs. Todd's home to photograph her baby. She was stabbed fatally in the chest. (AP Wirephoto)

GOP in North Dakota Won't Support Langer

Lt. Gov. Duffy Given Nomination After 5 Ballots and 3 Hours of Bitter Debate

Bismarck, N. D. — (AP) — North Dakota Republicans today awaited the reaction of William Langer after turning down his bid for a fourth term in the United States senate last night at their endorsing convention.

Langer, a 40-year veteran of political leadership in the state, lost out to Lt. Gov. Clyde Duffy after five ballots and three hours of heated debate.

On the final ballot, Duffy drew 345 of the 523 total votes while Langer received 177. In the previous tallies, Langer never approached closer than 50 or 60 votes to the 263 majority needed for endorsement.

His turnaround, however, does not finally eliminate Langer from the senate race as he may file as an independent for both the primary and fall general elections.

Political Power
His turnaround, however, does not eliminate Langer from the senate race. He may file in the primary. In the absence of word from him, friends say they expected Langer to seek the Republican nomination. If that fails he could run as an independent in the general election.

Ray Schnell, Dickinson rancher and former North Dakota lieutenant governor, third man in the endorsing race, drew one vote on the final ballot.

Langer has been a political power in the state since the early 1930s when he was elected governor under the Non-Partisan League banner.

Old guard members of the league and the Republican Organizing Committee joined forces two years ago after an insurgent league element swung the non-partisans into the Democratic column.

Prior to two years ago, the non-Partisan League and ROC had fought it out for Republican nominations in primaries for 40 years. Duffy had been affiliated with the ROC group before the upsurge of the Unity drive.

Anti-Langer forces charged in speeches that endorsement of the 71-year-old senator would spell the end to party unity.

From Langer supporters came the charge that failure to endorse him would "split the party wide open."

Slayer Given Record Term

299-Year Sentence
For Killer of Young
Chicago Housewife

Chicago — (AP) — William Stacey, 23, who once begged for a quick death in the electric chair, instead reaped 299 years behind bars.

A criminal court jury of nine men and three women deliberated for 34 hours Friday before convicting the door-to-door baby portrait photographer of murdering a teen-age mother, Mrs. Darlene Todd, 16, last November.

Then-acting under Illinois law which sets no limit on prison sentences for murder—the jury gave him 299 years in jail. He will not be eligible to file for parole until 2057, when one-third of his sentence will have been served.

Last November, shortly after Stacey was caught and accused of bludgeoning, choking and stabbing the young mother to death he told police he wanted to die in the electric chair.

An unidentified juror later said it took four ballots to fix the penalty with several jurors holding out for death.

Irving Lang, assistant state's attorney, said he believed the 299-year sentence was a record for a single crime. A jurist, Circuit Judge Jacob M. Braudette, told a newsman he could recall no such sentence.

Price Rise May Bring Veto of Supports Bill

Jet Trainer Hits Home in N. Carolina

Charlotte, N. C. — (AP) — An air force jet trainer, low on fuel and trying to land in almost zero visibility, crashed into a house on the outskirts of Charlotte before dawn today, killing the pilot.

Nine sleeping occupants of the house escaped injury, though the 8-room frame structure burned to the ground except for a front wall.

The pilot, flying alone in the 2-seat T33 trainer, was 1st Lt. Wendell R. Miller, 24, of Salisbury, N. C. He was stationed at Vance Air Force base, Enid, Okla.

Douglas Municipal airport personnel said Miller had been cleared for a landing on runway No. 5, but missed the strip in his first approach and apparently was coming around to try again when the jet struck some trees, then smashed into the rear of the house.

Thought Bolt Hit Tree
"I thought lightning had struck one of the trees," said G. A. Ledford, an aircraft mechanic who lived in the house with his wife and two children; Mrs. Velma White; Mrs. White's daughter, Mrs. Beatrice White Wiley and her 10-month-old daughter, and Herbert James White and Tony White, Mrs. White's sons.

"I opened the back door and looked out and saw the plane sitting on the back porch burning. It had hit the ground about a hundred yards from the house and slid onto the back porch."

"Part of the plane went all the way through the kitchen. The nose section was all the way on the other side of the house," he said.

The airport said that although it had no equipment for handling blind landings, the pilot attempted to set down because he said he had only 10 minutes of fuel remaining.

Soviet Regime to Be Listed Monday

Moscow — (AP) — Premier Khrushchev will disclose the makeup of his new government Monday, it was announced today before the council of the union — one of Russia's two houses of parliament.

Monday's joint session of the two houses will thus spell out Nikolai Bulganin's political future and also may reveal a Kremlin decision to end Soviet H-bomb tests without waiting for the United States and Britain.

Khrushchev led the presidential members into today's session which continued to discuss the communist party leader's agricultural plans. Bulganin was not present.

When Bulganin resigned as premier Thursday and was replaced by Nikita Khrushchev, he submitted the resignation of the entire council of ministers.

A T33 Air Force Jet Crashed into a home in Charlotte, N. C., today during a landing attempt. The pilot, Lt. W. R. Miller, Salisbury, N. C., stationed at Vance Air Force base, Enid, Okla., was killed. Airline Held To Blame for Crash in 1953

Judge Finds Co-Pilot
Incompetent; 46 Died
In Gulf Disaster

New Orleans — (AP) — A federal judge has ruled that National Airlines was negligent about safety procedures and used a completely incompetent co-pilot on a flight five years ago that carried 46 persons to their deaths.

U.S. Dist. Judge Herbert Christenberry declared yesterday that National was negligent in the Feb. 14, 1953, crash in the Gulf of Mexico near Mobile, Ala., which killed 41 passengers and five crew members of the Tampa-New Orleans flight.

Christenberry also ordered that persons who sued the airline recover damages with interest at 5 per cent annually from the date of the crash until paid. He did not rule on the amount of damages, but said the case would be fixed for trial on that issue unless the parties agreed within 20 days on the amount due those who sued.

Mrs. Beryl Whiteman Stiles, widow of New Orleans Atty. Harry F. Stiles, who was a crash victim, sued National. Another plaintiff was N. H. Conder, administrator of the estate of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Schnorbus of Houston, Texas, two other victims.

Christenberry said periodic progress reports of National Airlines on the competency of the co-pilot described him as "completely incompetent" and "dull — below average in radio technique and knowledge of operating procedures."

The judge said the company reports also described the co-pilot as "no good in instrument weather."

The plane's death list identified the co-pilot as C. T. Stettner, 38, of Miami.

In his findings, Christenberry said that unlike other airlines, National did not maintain its own meteorological department and said dispatchers in its flight control office in Miami were responsible for keeping flights informed of weather conditions. He said the dispatchers were not trained in meteorology.

Child Breaks Through Ice, Drowns in Creek

Green Bay — (AP) — Elroy Stuckart, 6, of Green Bay, drowned in Dutchman's creek Friday when he broke through thin ice. A brother, Joseph, 12, saw Elroy fall in and ran home for help. Rescuers said artificial respiration was attempted. Elroy was one of 15 children of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Stuckart.

Agriculture Department's Report Expected to Help President Make Decision

Washington — (AP) — An upward leap of farm prices appeared likely today to assure a veto of legislation that would prevent a drop in farm price supports.

The agriculture department reported yesterday that average prices of farm products jumped 4 per cent in the month ended March 15. However, part of the gain was offset by a 1 per cent advance, to a new record, in prices paid by farmers for goods and services.

This was the third straight monthly rise for farm prices which for a long time were in the doldrums. It brought farm prices to within 14 per cent of the level when the Eisenhower administration took over in 1953. At one stage, the level was down about 10 per cent.

The new farm price report was issued while congressmen al farm leaders were putting added pressure on President Eisenhower to sign a bill to freeze price props at not less than 1957 levels for one year. The White House said yesterday that Eisenhower probably will not act on the bill before next week.

The measure would cancel dairy price support cuts which are due to become effective next Tuesday. It also would bar any reduction in supports for a number of other major commodities.

Benson Asks Veto
Secretary of Agriculture Benson has recommended that the freeze bill be vetoed, contending that continued high price props would aggravate the overproduction problem and make it harder to sell farm products in the market place.

He hailed the March price surge as "highly gratifying." While conceding it is partly seasonal, Benson said it is "evidence of the underlying strength of the farm segment of our national economy."

Most farm leaders contended the price advance would not last long. But they agreed it would strengthen Benson in his recommendation that the freeze bill be vetoed.

Sens. Carlson (R-Kan) and Young (R-ND) said the increase is likely to be only temporary and would not justify a veto. They attributed the sharp price rise mainly to weather conditions.

Carlson and Young were among a group of Republican senators who went to the White House yesterday — before the price report came out — to urge Eisenhower not to veto the freeze bill. Many Democrats also have appealed to Eisenhower to sign the bill.

Veto Would Stand
The measure passed both senate and house by sizable majorities, but the margins were far short of the two-thirds necessary to override a veto. Many Republicans in congress have voiced concern that a veto of the bill would cost the GOP heavily in the fall elections.

The sharp rise in farm prices appeared to reduce the possibility that the administration might adjust some supports upward even if Eisenhower vetoed the freeze bill. There has been speculation that such a compromise move might be made.

Carlson said in an interview the price rise between mid-February and mid-March was caused mostly by drought conditions in the southwest which depleted livestock herds, and by severe winter weather which ruined part of the citrus crop in Florida.

Teacher Denies Claim Of Woman That She Is Daughter of Last Czar

Wiesbaden, Germany — (AP) — An elderly teacher who tutored the children of Russia's last czar testified today that a Black Forest woman who claims to be the czar's daughter Anastasia is a pretender.

Prof. Pierre Gilliard of Lausanne university was the key witness for the house of Hesse as the long disputed case of Anastasia was resumed in a German civil court.

Mrs. Anna Anderson, 57, has sought since the early 1920s to prove that she is Anastasia and is entitled to the czarist properties in Germany that were turned over to the house of Hesse in 1933. The house of Hesse, related to the czarist family, contends the woman who lives in the Black Forest as Mrs. Anderson is actually a former Polish farm worker.

Volcanic Island Rises Out of Mediterranean

Palermo, Sicily — (AP) — A new volcanic island arose in the Mediterranean at dawn today and by noon jutted 450 feet above the sea.

The Italian navy reported the tiny island emerged eight miles from Favignana, as island off the west coast of Sicily between Marsala and Trapani. The navy's last report said the volcanic island still was rising.

Pig Show Set For Tuesday At Chilton

Judging in Morning; Speakers to Talk at Afternoon Session

Chilton — Plans have been completed for the first district feeder pig show and clinic to be held at the Calumet county fairgrounds in Chilton Tuesday.

Eight entries by local farmers have been made and it is expected that the total quota of 10 Calumet county pens will be filled during the weekend, according to O. W. Meyer, county agent.

Feeder pig producers from Door, Kaukauna, Sheboygan, Manitowish, Fond du Lac, and Washington counties also will exhibit at the show.

Each county has a 10-pen limit for pigs to be shown. Pens will consist of 10 feeders, ranging in weight from 40 to 50 pounds.

Morning Judging — Entries will be judged in the morning and placed into blue, red or white ribbon groups. Pens are to be in place at the fairgrounds by 9:30 Tuesday morning.

A grand and reserve champion pen will be selected by judges. Knauf and Tesch company, Chilton, will award the trophy to the champion entry.

The afternoon program will be an educational discussion on feeder pig management and feeder pig breeding led by Bob Grummer, Wisconsin College of Agriculture, and Charlie Maas, president of the State Swine Breeders association.

Calumet county entries to date have been made by Pat Meier, Henry Pethan, John Bittner, Art Zahn, Carl Peik, Leroy Breit, Glenroy Boll and Alex Theil.

Priest Talks To KC Group At Little Chute

Little Chute — The Rev. Kenneth Barnes, O.F.M. Cap., of St. Joseph Catholic church, Appleton, was the guest speaker when the Knights of Columbus Allouez General assembly met at Hammen's restaurant.

Father Barnes told the KC members that March is the month of vocations and went on to explain the priests' order and the habit they wear.

Father Barnes pointed out the significance of the beard that is worn by the Capuchins. He explained that the wearing of sandals signifies humility and is a carryover from the days of the saints.

The priest also told about the work of the order and location of friaries and monasteries throughout the country.

Special guest at the dinner-program was John S. Wynboom, Little Chute, charter member of the Knights. He joined the group in 1907 and was elevated to the fourth degree in 1914. Wynboom is 88 years old and has been active in KC work.

Comedy Rules As FFA Sponsors Donkey Games

Waupaca Students, Faculty Fight It Out On Basketball Court

Waupaca — Comedy reigned Thursday evening as a standing room only crowd filled the Waupaca armory for the FFA sponsored donkey basketball game.

The fund raising project featured students in races, teachers in races, and combinations of student and instructor ball games which proved to be semi-wrestling and semi-basketball.

Participating in the girls' prize race were Pat Abrahamson, Diane Rasmussen, Jean Lamkins, Shirley St. John, Sharon Danielson and Gloria Handrich.

Wooden donkey races were entered by John Doyle, Larry Jensen, Daniel Ecklund, Marilyn Sherman, Sharon Wied, Judy Salter, Ralph Benthien, Ward Fox and Gil Daniel.

Two 16 minute basketball games featured senior girls playing the junior girls, and the high school faculty against the Future Farmer's team. Little scoring was done.

Riding for the senior girls were Genevieve Green, Connie Jensen, Annette Anderson, Janet Halverson, Jeannette Plutz, Barbara Wied, Sandra Vaughn and Janis Bishop. The junior opponents were Ruth Miller, Jane Smith, Marilyn Gunsten, Barbara Nielsen, Vicki Heath, Sally Wickman, Marge Grant and Louise Paulson.

The high school faculty included Paul Jensen, coach, Jim Miller, Gil Daniel, Ward Fox, Ralph Benthien, Roman Danielson, LeRoy Haberkorn and Douglas Harnes.

Women Hear of Iranian Life, Customs, Work

Visitor Discusses Her Country for Business, Professional Club

New London — Members of the New London Business and Professional Woman's club Wednesday night at the Elwood hotel heard Mrs. Reza Mehran, Tehran, Iran, discuss conditions in Iran.

Mrs. Mehran, who is staying at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond V. Pahl, E. Cook street, spoke on the status of women in Iran. She also showed handicraft items made in Iran, including jewelry made of silver. She said items are bought and sold by barter.

The speaker also explained the part of the American foreign aid program in building a dam.

She said that the Iranian year begins with the first day of spring.

Decorations Made

Tables were decorated with handicraft items furnished by Miss Georgie Schantz, city nurse, who collected the items while serving as an industrial nurse with an oil company in Arabia and Lebanon.

Grass Fire Sets Cedar Logs Afire

New London — A grass fire spread to a large pile of cedar log ends about 2:20 Friday afternoon at the William Weiland home, town of Caledonia, before it was put out by the New London fire department.

Welland told New London firemen the fire spread from a small grass fire set to clear the land. "The pile of logs seemed to explode in flames" when the grass fire reached it, he said.

He said that about one-third of the 30,000 feet of lumber, which would have been cut from the logs, was destroyed by the fire. Firemen kept the blaze from spreading to other nearby piles of logs.

Five Candidates Vie for Four School Board Seats

One Incumbent Seeks Votes in Race For Expanded Commission in Waupaca

Waupaca — Five candidates for school board member will be listed on the April 1 ballot and voters may select four. The school board was recently enlarged by the city council from five to seven, creating two vacancies.

One candidate, Frank J. Betry, holds a school board seat now, while the other four will be seeking their first terms.

John F. Chalstrom, 29 years old, is married and has two children. He was born at Spirit Lake, Iowa, and graduated from the University of Iowa. The Chalstroms have resided at 212 Lake street for the last year and a half.

Chalstrom is the state sales manager for the Gulf Oil corporation, a veteran of World war II, commander of the VFW, a member of the Lions, Masons and Moose, and is in charge of the youth group at his church.

Another candidate, Fay Fonstad, 45, is the mother of three children and resides with her family at 316 Jefferson street. She was born in Waukesha.

Mrs. Fonstad is active in PTA, Red Cross, city recreation council, homemakers organizations and a member of her parish board of education.

Russell H. Smith, 39 years old, resides on route 4, Waupaca, and is the father of five children. One child is in college, three in high school and one in grade school.

Smith was born in Waupaca and graduated from Waupaca High school. He is president of the Central Wisconsin Farm Management association, a member of the Farm Improvement association, and a county 4-H leader. He was a member of the Granite quarry school board for 10 years.

The only incumbent, Frank J. Betry, has been a school board member since 1948. He was appointed to the board in '48 and '51 and elected to the position in 1954 and 1955.

Betry is 49 and lives with his family on W. Fulton street. The Betrys have two children, one in high school and another in college. A claims adjuster for an insurance company, he was born in Berlin and attended Oshkosh and Stevens Point State colleges. He taught school in Marathon county and was an administrative assistant in the county superintendent's office at Wausau.

Betry recently headed the county Heart Fund drive and is a member of the Masonic lodge.

Robert F. Stange, 32, is an attorney, is married and has two daughters and a son. He is a member of the Masonic lodge.

Betry began his law practice here two years ago after moving from Milwaukee.

He is a veteran of World war II, a member of the VFW, president of the Community Chest organization, president of the elementary PTA, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin law school, and has been active in Boy Scouting and the Red Cross.

Walleye Fishermen Have Reported fair success off the Winneconne bridge during the week. Among the most successful, however, were Robert Nowak, left, and his son, Vernon, 612 W. Prospect avenue, who came in with ten walleyes after one trip. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Wolf River Will Get Weekend Play

Walleye Run Has Not Started Yet; Water Level 2 Feet Below Normal

BY JAY REED
Post-Crescent Outdoor Editor

Weyauwega—The Wolf river, perennial Lorelei to thousands of Wisconsin anglers, will get a heavy play over the weekend now that it's clear of ice which choked it from bank to bank since November.

But the famed spring walleye run has not started and anglers may not find fishing up to the standard they might expect.

Reports from Oshkosh indicate walleyes are hitting there to the extent that almost every fisherman was taking at least a few fish if not their limit.

No such enthusiastic notices are in force here although the time is not too far distant when the fish will be hitting regularly.

Gill's Landing

Anglers going out from Gill's landing report spotty success. Limits, at this early date, have been rare with parties returning with two, three or four fish.

Most encouraging reports have come from the Winneconne area where anglers working off the bridge have had good success.

Robert Nowak and his son, Vernon, 612 W. Prospect avenue, Appleton, each filled up on one fishing trip at the bridge. Other anglers were taking fish, too, but no other limits were reported.

Wolf River Rig

As usual, it was the Wolf river rig decked out with a squirming minnow which was the favorite bait of anglers working the river.

Artificial, used with good success in other sections of the state, are almost nonexistent along the Wolf and with good reason — they don't take as many fish.

V. A. Skilling, east central area warden supervisor, told this writer Friday that the river is about two feet below its normal level and only a concentrated rainy period can bring it up.

"The walleyes are going to have to spawn in the river or lakes," he said, "because they can't get into the marshes."

Skilling said the Wolf is free of ice along most of the stretch from Shawano to Oshkosh.

The Walleye season on Wolf river - Winnebago waters never closes. The bag limit is five fish per fisherman. The old 13-inch minimum size limit has been abolished, however, and fish of any size can be put on the stringer.

Doubt Grows Among Northern Sportsmen Concerning Validity of Prohibiting Bag of Female Birds

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The place of the protected hen pheasant in Wisconsin is headed for serious study.

The pheasant is the most important of the upland game species in Wisconsin, providing more sport for more hunters and perhaps more game in the bag, than any other. Since the pheasant was introduced in the state, however, the female of the species has been carefully protected by law. Only cock pheasants have been legal targets.

Current discussions, however, strongly suggest that:

Growing Doubt

1. There is a growing doubt among sportsmen about the validity of protecting the hen pheasant in the northern counties where there is little natural reproduction and comparatively little survival through the winter.

2. Some state game officials, listening to their biology advisors, are becoming doubtful about the wisdom of stocking hen pheasants, at a considerable cost per bird.

The subject broke out for lively discussion at the recent policy session of the executive Council of the Wisconsin Conservation congress.

Herbert Behnke of Peshtigo, northeastern Wisconsin spokesman on the group, proposed that the hen pheasant be made legal game in the northern zones where the pheasant program is strictly on a "put and take" basis. The stocked birds there rarely live through the winter and thus to the extent that the hen is forbidden to be taken by hunters it is being wasted, he argued. Behnke noted that his group in Marinette county produces and stocks up to 5,000 birds yearly. Ed Kelp of Manitowoc backed the idea, saying that his club stocks 5,000 to 6,000 birds, and knows that less than half of them are ever recovered by hunters.

"We see them dead along the roads in the winter," he complained.

But J. R. Smith, head of the state game division, persuaded the critics to withhold their proposal for another year, pending a more complete investigation of the natural reproduction of pheasants and the survival of the hens.

He warned, moreover, that natural reproduction of pheasants occurs in the southern counties of the state, where such reproduction is a significant part of the bird supply in localities where the pheasant is the major local hunting target.

Tests in the field, however, have already shown the conservation department that there is a far greater return—in hunters' bags—from the stocking of cocks than hens. State-wide preliminary studies show a very moderate reproduction by the planted hens.

Game Farm

The state game farm could concentrate on the production of cock pheasants, if it chose. It could sort out the chicks when they are hatched, as do the commercial poultry hatcheries, and rear only the males in each hatch.

Latest report from the pheasant research crew indicates that it may require two more years of field studies to determine whether stocking hen pheasants is worth the considerable cost represented in their production and release.

Stockbridge's Grimm Named to KM's 2nd Five

Gene Grimm, a senior forecourtman, was recently selected by Kettle Moraine conference coaches on the second all-league basketball team for 1957-8.

Grimm scored 176 points for the 12-game season.

Stockbridge's Tom Hernauer, who scored 125 points, won honorable mention.

The all-KM first team comprises Arvin Meerdink, Oostburg, and Bob Klokow, Howards Grove, forwards; Ron Heuver, Cedar Grove, center; and Glenn Flipse, Oostburg, and Lee De Master, Cedar Grove, guards.

Second team choices, besides Grimm, were Ed Nonhof and Don Harmeling, Cedar Grove; Dick Gluck, Random Lake; and Jerry Hintz, Waldo.

Conservation Group to Convene at Green Bay

The next meeting of the Legislative Council's interim committee on conservation affairs, headed by Sen. Reuben LaFave of Oconto, will be held at the Brown county courthouse in Green Bay on May 21, the Council has announced.

Federal Regulation of Boating Being Studied

Wiley Says Move Will Come Unless the States Enact Own Regulatory Systems

National government registration and regulation of private pleasure boats operating on navigable waters will come, unless the states enact such regulatory systems, according to Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin.

In a newsletter distributed to Wisconsin constituents this week, the senator related that hearings have been held by a house of representatives committee on what he called a "controversial" bill to establish a uniform, nation-wide numbering and registration system for private water craft.

Accident Rate

Declaring that such a national act could have "serious effects on the state of Wisconsin, where boating plays a major role in the economy," Wiley observed that Wisconsin and other states are in "infinitely better position to regulate boating than the far-away and already over-extended federal government."

Wiley emphasized, however

Deer Damage Claims in State Total $31,396; Marinette Heads the List

Madison—The state conservation department paid out $31,396 on 202 claims for damages resulting from depredations of deer during the last year.

The figure was substantially higher than in other years and most of the claims covered damages for commercial gardeners and farmers, the department said. Marinette county claimants got the largest payments, aggregating $6,500.

The department during the same year paid out $2,897 on 33 claims of damage done by bears.

In another report, the department said that wild fur harvesting last year yielded more than $1,000,000 for trappers. Mink taken in the wild were worth $515,000, and muskrats $449,955. Other species of pelts were negligible in value.

Report Shows Prolific Nature Of Rough Fish

9,452,000 Pounds of Nuisance Species Taken by State Men

The prolific nature of the "rough fish" which infest much of the state's fishing water is shown in the record harvest figures attained by the state conservation department last year.

State and private fishing crews took 9,452,000 pounds of undesirable fish of all kinds from rivers and lakes during 1957, it was disclosed today. The figure exceeded the 1955 catch by about 1,500,000 pounds.

Nearly half of the immense yield was represented by the removal of the sheephead from Lake Winnebago, to the extent of 4,275,000 pounds. Most of the remainder was carp, including carp from Lakes Kegonsa and Waubesa near Madison and Koshkonong in Jefferson county which continue to produce the nuisance fish in almost unbelievable quantities.

374,000 Pounds

A single seine haul in Lake Waubesa has produced 275,000 pounds of carp, eighty-five per cent of them weighing between one third of a pound and one pound each.

Koshkonong lake last year produced 1,066,000 pounds of carp, Kegonsa 741,591, and Waubesa 488,000.

The statement reported removal of 374,000 pounds of carp from the Rock river in Rock county, 207,000 from Horicon marsh in Dodge county, 84,000 from Green lake and 88,000 pounds from Mason lake, among other large crops.

When the removal program was started more than two decades ago, fisheries men hopefully talked about "elimination" of rough fish. Their attitude today is more cautious. Their goal is "control," they explain.

The state report said that market prices for carp were fairly low during the last year. Besides carp and sheephead, these other species are taken in substantial quantities: buffalo, white carp, sucker, dogfish, garfish, eelpout and moon-eye.

Who gave the party for Mary?

Her parents, of course. And they had the help of hundreds of other people—men and women from different parts of town that Mary's parents don't even know.

These people helped Mother bake the cake and cook the party food. They helped freeze the ice cream, sew Mary's dress, and wash and iron it. They helped heat, light and clean the house for the party. They helped make it a success.

If you stop to count all the ways you put electricity to work, you'll be surprised. Can you think of anything else that gives so much value, day in and day out, for so little cost?

Nelson Proves to be Active Campaigner

Democratic Governor Candidate Makes 4 to 5 Speeches a Week

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison. — Having logged more than 15,000 miles and nearly 100 speeches since he announced his candidacy for the governorship last September, Sen. Gaylord Nelson, Madison, has made a stronger start than most of the Democratic party's standard-bearers in recent years.

With four to five stump appearances weekly, Nelson will shortly step up the pace of his campaigning as his party's chief spokesman in the fight against Wisconsin Republicans. He and his advisors are agreed that a more intensive personal campaign is required for him than for Sen. Proxmire, for example, because he is yet relatively unknown. Ten years of service in the legislature have given him a wide acquaintance with party men, but he has never before run on a state-wide ballot. It is now assumed in the party that Nelson will win the Democratic nomination in the September primary without significant opposition, and perhaps without any opposition whatever. Unlike some politicians who dread the physical and spiritual toll of campaign road work, Nelson finds speech-making and campaigning enjoyable and exhilarating. The robust 42-year-old, a practicing lawyer in private life, is regarded by Democratic partisans as one of the most effective stumpers in their stable. He speaks easily, and has a flair for humorous expression that draws favorable responses from audiences and especially party rallies that demand hard-hitting attacks upon the opposition.

Bright Future

Nelson has worked in political campaigns since boyhood — including many in which he was on the losing side. He is cautious about assessing the outlook, but says that he has never seen the prospects for his party so bright.

"There has never been such enthusiasm among Democrats everywhere in the state, during the years that I've been active in the party," he says.

"My strongest impression is that there's a pretty good Democratic trend in Wisconsin. At some party meetings, local leaders tell me that men and women who haven't turned out since 1936 are becoming active again. In some of the smaller towns where there have been overwhelming Republican votes in the past some of the local Democrats are again willing to identify themselves and declare themselves as Democrats," he continues.

Nelson's speech theme is what he calls the default of the leadership responsibilities of the Republicans in power in the state and national capitals.

Emphasis to Education

Of the issues Nelson raises, he gives major emphasis to education. It is also the topic that arouses most response from his audiences, he has found. He favors broad-scale governmental action to permit more talented young people to enroll in colleges and universities. Some observers have noted that Nelson's attacks upon Gov. Thomson have an unusual bite in them — as measured against the arguments between other rival contenders for the governorship in other years. The fact may be related to the circumstance that Nelson and Thomson, although they served together in the legislature quite recently, have never been cordial toward each other. Democratic and Republican politicians in the legislature fraternize considerably, in spite of their partisan competition.

But Nelson as a state senator and Thomson as an assemblyman and later as attorney general maintained a cool formality — long before either of them knew that they would one day be battling each other for the highest prize in state politics.

First Strength

Nelson's first strength as a bidder for his party's principal nomination this year derived largely from support by some of the state's most powerful labor leaders and his wide acquaintance with rank and file union members in the principal industrial cities. Lately he has seemed to play down those connections, in favor of broadening his acquaintance with the public at large.

The fact that he and Sen. Proxmire, as the party's principal candidates, both call Madison home may revive, some party men feel, the resentment in Milwaukee circles about capital city domination of the party.

Giants and Their Victims

A recent article in Time magazine about the Kohler strike opened as follows:

For its size (pop. 45,000), the Wisconsin city of Sheboygan—"the greatest little town in the world"—may well be the most hate-ridden community in the U. S. Passing on the street, men who used to be co-workers, neighbors and friends now glare at each other in deep-frozen enmity. At night, normally law-abiding citizens vent their gnawing hatred against their enemies in acts of vandalism: slashing automobile tires, scattering nails in driveways, hurling glass jars filled with paint through house windows. Sheboygan's hate reaches even to the children: an everyday sight is a tight-lipped child followed by other children shrilly jeering, "Your father's a dirty scab!"

We have not visited Sheboygan recently, yet we are confident that the above paragraph represents some of the most distorted and exaggerated writing to appear in a U. S. newspaper or magazine this year. Certainly if conditions at Sheboygan were anything like those described, we would have some inkling of it here in the Fox Cities only 60 miles away.

Yet Time's carelessness with the facts is just one more insult heaped on the long-suffering citizens of the Sheboygan area: we doubt that any American community in recent history has been subjected to such an ordeal as has Sheboygan in the last four years, has had its agony so cruelly exposed to the white light of nationwide publicity. Any community no matter how progressive and basically healthy—and we think Sheboygan is both of these—must begin to lose confidence in itself, to lose its very self-respect under these conditions.

And what has been the cause of all this? The hearings before the Senate committee investigating the Kohler strike have brought out very clearly, we think, how a fine Wisconsin community and many thousands of Wisconsin residents have become the victims in a battle between two giants who fundamentally care little about the fate of that community and those people.

The Kohler strike has been a collision between an old-fashioned, bull-headed, "The public be damned" type of industrialist—Herbert Kohler—and a modern, empire-building, politically ambitious labor leader—Walter Reuther. What started out as a relatively ordinary union-company clash has become a battle involving the personal prestige of these two men, and their survival as leaders of their organizations.

A number of observers have noted the similarities between the two. Each is ruthlessly ambitious; each has dictatorial powers in his own domain; each carries on the warfare with Teutonic thoroughness and stubbornness. Each takes the attitude that it is a war to the death and let the chips fall where they may—the chips being the lives and welfare of the workers who have been caught up in the battle, and the communities in which they live.

Interestingly both Kohler and Reuther operate through hatchet men, and here again similarities are apparent. Both Lyman Conger and Emil Mazey are fanatically loyal to their chiefs; both are tight-lipped major domos who carry out their superiors' instructions vigorously and with obvious contempt for interference from "do-gooders" or even from constituted authority.

This is what the Kohler strike is really all about; it is a battle between tycoons—one a Nineteenth century type of tycoon, the other a Twentieth century type—who have staked their personal reputations and power on the outcome of the struggle. What matter that thousands of ordinary working people have lost millions of dollars in wages, that families have been torn apart, that homes are violated, that neighbors shout insults at one another, that a fine city must see its name dragged in the mud? The only important thing is that Herbert Kohler or Walter Reuther continue to sit in their paneled offices and wield the power that means so much to them.

The Governor and the Senators

Politicians, oddly enough, usually are taken quite seriously by their audiences. Since such speakers are more or less bound to accept the mood of their listeners, successful humor on the stump is a rarity.

It might even be said that politicians seldom have any fun, but Gov. Thomson succeeded in getting some smiles in a rather delicate situation the other day. The occasion was the meeting of the governor with Gaylord Nelson, a state senator who hopes to be the Democratic candidate for governor, and Sen. Estes Kefauver, Democrat of Tennessee, on the platform at a session of the Wisconsin Electric Cooperatives in Madison.

Gov. Thomson and Sen. Nelson got by with a handshake. That was civilized enough, but there stood Kefauver! Gov. Thomson often has referred to Kefauver as partly to blame for the cut in dairy price supports, and has charged that he comes to Wisconsin regularly "to lull dairy farmers with promises of future consideration which they never get."

Now standing face to face with the Tennesseean, the governor must have faced a strong conflict between a desire to be polite to a visiting senator and the knowledge that it would be politically fatal to appear to back down or to make light of his former statements. What to do?

The governor told the crowd that he thought the cooperatives should have served "electrically cooked raccoon" in honor of Sen. Kefauver. But he added that he wished to extend the senator a very warm and genuine welcome. "I want him to get a breath of fresh air in Wisconsin," he said and added that he would be glad to help him out at any time, and he stressed the word "out."

Sen. Kefauver accepted the governor's barbs smilingly and the audience was delighted with both. Later the senator blasted the Republicans in Washington as enemies of rural electrification, and no doubt that pleased them also.

The governor received a standing ovation at the conclusion of his talk, and Sens. Kefauver and Nelson also were generously cheered. We cannot judge the political effect, but merely mention the instance as one of those rare occasions where politicians had some fun. The governor's platform skill probably helped the digestion of all present, even though they didn't need it for "electrically cooked raccoon."

Learning to Sell Again

Recently these columns advanced the opinion that one of the important causes of the current recession has been the failure of businessmen to put some steam into merchandising, which is the art of parting the customer from his money. We cited the automobile industry as an example, and suggested that if the industry's leaders would put away their crying towels and get out on the road and do some selling they would find that there are plenty of people around who can afford to buy cars—all they need is the inclination.

Now comes word from Cleveland, Ohio, that during the last week in February that city's automobile dealers sold an estimated 3,300 new cars, or almost 800 more than they sold in the first three weeks of the month. During the same week they sold 3,500 used cars, also representing a sharp increase in sales.

How did they do it? By getting together and sponsoring a "You Auto Buy Now" week-long event which was promoted through all advertising media, accompanied by a good deal of hoopla, with special incentives for salesmen, and so on. The public liked it, and money came out of savings accounts and cash boxes; dealers were impressed by the high percentage of buyers who paid cash, and by the size of the down payments other buyers were willing to make. Many of the dealers, furthermore, learned something about the size of their potential market. Automotive News reports, "Dealers were surprised to learn that many prospective buyers admitted they never had been contacted by sales personnel."

The Cleveland experience indicates that many people today are willing to buy automobiles (and probably many other kinds of merchandise) and have the money with which to do it. But if the nation's businessmen do nothing but sit around and talk about how tough the times are, they are going to see little of that money.

Asks Publication of Engel Letters

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Ah—Spring when a young man's fancy turns to Love...

When one has that feeling of "Oh, its good to be alive" and a special thankful feeling that we are a part of a nation, whose government is of the people, by the people and for the people—and where freedom of speech is still a part of one's daily living.

With all this in mind, I would like to make a special request to you at the Post-Crescent. Let's have all of the letters published that Mr. Engel has written about anti-fluoridation. Because of his intensive study on this subject, I think it would be worthwhile for the people in Appleton to know of his findings.

Maybe there is something to his angle that would be of interest to the people. Are we really paying for pure water? Does fluoride in the water actually prevent tooth decay? If fluoridation of the water is so good why isn't every city in the United States using it?

So please publish those letters—because we the people in Appleton have a right to know whether fluoridation is safe.

General Belief in Immortality, Poll Indicates

Older People More Certain Of After Life

BY ELMO C. WILSON
Director, World Poll

Faith in some sort of immortality, a precept of most of the great religions, is widespread around the globe.

In six out of nine countries surveyed by World-Poll, half or more of the people believe in a life after death. The proportion rises to a high of four out of every five adults in a predominantly Catholic country like Italy. At the other extreme, in Japan, the number who affirm an existence after death drops to 30 per cent, despite the fact that the two principal religions in Japan, Buddhism and Shintoism, include belief in immortality. In Mexico and Austria, there is an almost equal division of opinion on the question: the proportions who deny that there is a life after death are roughly equal to those who affirm it.

"Do you believe that there definitely is a life after death, do you think it is likely there is, unlikely there is, or that there definitely is not a life after death?"

Definite Views

It is interesting that relatively few were unwilling to venture an opinion. In nearly all the countries, half the public had very definite views: they said there "definitely is," or "definitely is not" a life after death. This definiteness of opinion is obviously related to the fact that it is a matter to which considerable thought has been given. In each country, at least half the public—in Italy and Norway, almost nine out of ten—said they had thought about this question before the interviewers confronted them with it.

"Have you ever thought about whether or not there is a life after death?"

Men, Women Agree

In most countries men and women do not differ in their views about life after death, or in the extent to which they have given thought to the question. In Italy, Norway and France, however, women lead in the belief in life after death. This is linked, no doubt to the tradition-

Age a Factor

As people get older, they tend more to the belief that death is not the final end; that there is some future existence.

The table below showing opinions in Norway follows the general pattern:

Educated Don't Differ

Better educated people are more likely to say they have given thought to the question, but do not necessarily fall into the believer class. In fact, attitudes do not differ consistently according to the number of years of schooling. Generally, university-trained people and those with minimal schooling are equally convinced of a life after death.

Scientist Says We Can Fly Rocket Around Moon

BY HAL MCCLURE

Los Angeles — One of America's foremost sufferers of moon madness is a tall, bespectacled scientist who, in his own words, "insists on plowing relentlessly toward the stars."

Not that Dr. John L. Barnes is superstitious and is really hexed by the light of the moon. But he does have a powerful interest—almost a fixation—in the earth's only natural satellite.

Chances are that when a U. S. spaceman becomes the real-life man on the moon, part of the credit will belong to Barnes, a part-time professor and full-time head of a firm of consultants specializing solely in space travel.

Why the moon? "The first reason, obviously, is that it's the nearest," answers Barnes. "Then there's the adventure of just going there. Scientific exploration is important, too, as is the military aspect."

"We must protect ourselves for the next war which may come from space."

When will man be able to see the "other" side of the moon—the dark and mysterious side that has intrigued man throughout the ages?

Within Reach
Dr. Barnes says America could send a rocket around the moon within six months. A camera-carrying vehicle appears to be several years in the future and it won't be until 1967 that man will be able to voyage around the moon and return, he predicts.

Dr. Barnes' firm, Systems Corp. of America, is an outgrowth of two similar companies he helped found and it specializes in consultation and research for private businesses working under government missile or related contracts. Barnes' work is nearly all classified.

However, some of the findings of Barnes and his associates are startling. Here is his projected timetable for America's space age—providing funds are made available for an all-out program: 1958—Small Rocket with instruments or small animal flies around the moon.

1964—An instrumented vehicle goes to Mars and Venus.

1966—Manned earth satellite makes safe orbit.

1967—Man flies around moon and returns safely.

1971—Man lands on moon and returns.

1975—Man voyages to Venus and Mars and returns.

Dr. Barnes says America—if it wanted to spend the money—could send a rocket around the moon and return within six months, using existing hardware.

Would Burn Up
"It would burn up, however, when it hit the earth's atmosphere," he said.

He does not believe life exists on other planets in our solar system. Other galaxies? Perhaps, says Barnes, but propulsion limitations will prevent earthmen from finding out for decades.

Propulsion—the power used to propel a space vehicle—is the toughest, although not insuperable, problem of today's would-be space adventurer, Barnes says.

Other obstacles man must overcome to make successful planetary flight include controlling the space vehicle, navigation, communication, re-entry into the earth's atmosphere and biological and psychological limitations.

Minstrel Show Coming

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of March 29, 1878.

A very fine minstrel company, with Sam Lucas at the head of it, will visit our city and give one of their entertainments at Bertsch hall on Thursday evening next, to which we would advise a large attendance of our citizens.

They open with the laughable drama entitled "Underground Railroad" or "Scenes in the Old Plantation." Negro melodies and thrilling incidents will intersperse the presentation.

This will be followed by a grand parlor concert by the different members of the company, including Sam Lucas' specialties.

25 YEARS AGO

Saturday, March 25, 1933

Eric Gelbke was to address the flower and garden division of Appleton Chamber of Commerce on pruning.

Oscar J. Schmiede, Stanley A. Staidl and John A. Lonsdorf were owners of The Legal Publishing company, according to papers filed that morning with A. G. Koch, register of deeds. The firm, which has its offices in the Zuelke building, planned to publish treatises, books and pamphlets relating to laws and statutes.

Harry P. Hoeftel, who was connected with the firm of Staidl, Schmiede and Hoeftel for the past two years, announced he was opening his own office on the seventh floor of the Zuelke building.

Robert M. Connelly and Vilas Gehin were to entertain Appleton Lions club

Monday noon. Members of the club were invited to attend the Rotary club luncheon Tuesday and hear Judge John D. Wickham.

Miss Elizabeth Long was honored at a tea given by Miss Margaret Lappen and Miss June Kaufman at Mrs. H. S. Harwood's home.

Robert Kunitz, Appleton, a student at La Crosse State Teachers college, was named president of the "L" club.

10 YEARS AGO

Saturday, March 27, 1948

Cottagers along Payne's Point near Neenah either evacuated their homes last night or sat up through the long hour hours until morning as a driving wind out of the north and northeast broke up Lake Winnebago ice and piled it upon their front lawns. Some of the ice piles were estimated at between 30 and 40 feet high.

A new system of handling parking violations in Appleton was introduced that week by the Appleton Police department through the cooperation of Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede. A parking ticket, which in addition to the potential violations and punishments, included a waiver of trial so that court costs were eliminated.

Professor William F. Raney of Lawrence college was to speak on Wisconsin history in observance of the state centennial celebration at the luncheon meeting of the Appleton Lions club.

Mrs. L. E. Pease, retiring state registrar for Daughters of the American Revolution, said Friday that the Appleton chapter took second place in the state contest for press relations scrapbooks.

Florida Winter Had Good Angle: It Subdued Red Tide

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Florida's severest winter of the century has brought big troubles to farming and the tourist business but it did one good thing—it halted the fish killing Red Tide.

The Red Tide burst into one of its lethal stages last September, and during the fall struck terror along 200 miles of Florida Gulf coast from Tarpon Springs to south of Cape Romano. Although commercial varieties were generally unaffected, other types were hard hit.

Then came a first drastic freeze of the winter season.

The effects of that December cold spell were not too noticeable at once, but Dr. Robert F. Hutton, biologist of the state conservation department, reports that succeeding cold waves caused big changes in the density of the Red Tide.

"Cold Did the Job"

"The cold seems to have done the job for us," said Dr. Hutton who is in charge of the state forces trying to control the scourge. Since the first of the year no Red Tide organisms have been found in the northern sector of the infested belt and only a few have been detected in the southern end.

Dr. Hutton won't predict what this mysterious fish killer will do in the future.

Red Tide actually is a tiny marine organism, Gymnodinium Brevis (GB), which multiplies rapidly under certain conditions. When the GB count reaches 300,350,000 to a quart of water it's a fish killer. The organisms throw off a neuro toxin which kills fish by paralyzing their bodily functions.

The plague gets its name because the rapid growth of these tiny bugs turns sea waters reddish brown.

Scientists still are working to learn the specific cause of these outbreaks and how to control them. However, temperature and the presence of nutrient materials washed into the Gulf of Mexico by rain-swelled streams are known to be important.

vy.000wi etain

Irritates Humans
The poison released by these rampaging organisms is carried by droplets of water and can become irritating to humans. Beach residents may be bothered with coughing or sore throats.

For the first time last fall copper sulphate was used with success to kill big patches of Red Tide. Patrol boats and spray planes scattered copper spray. Even bags of the chemical were tied at passes to treat infested tidal waters. But the Gulf is a big place and to spray all the blighted area would take lots of money. Further, copper sulphate has no lasting effect and repeated sprays are necessary.

Island History, Life of New Guinea Noted by Menasha Woman on Tour

BY JEAN WILEY THICKENS
On Board the Bergensfjord—Since leaving American Samoa we have not touched land for two weeks and it has given the passengers an opportunity to recall some of the extraordinary sights we have seen and impressions we have received on this island hopping cruise. In all we have visited 10 South Sea islands. Only those who have sailed the vastness of the South Pacific can realize how isolated it is and how little interesting or most picturesque the natives are affected by life. Many of the passengers would choose New Guinea because it is the most exotic, the most of early explorers. British, Dutch, Portuguese, Spanish and French, who were willing to risk their lives and those of their crews. Equally courageous were the early Polynesians and Melanesians who traveled across thousands of miles of uncharted oceans in their huge canoes to find new homes for their people. In a museum in Sydney, Australia, we saw a life-sized model of one of these native canoes. It was 100 feet long with paddles 30 feet long, each paddle requiring two men to operate it because of its heaviness. Some were double-decker canoes with hand-carved high bows and a small shelter elevated above the deck in the center of the vessel.

It is difficult to select one island and say it was the most interesting or most picturesque. The natives are affected by life. Many of the passengers would choose New Guinea because it is the most exotic, the most of early explorers. British, Dutch, Portuguese, Spanish and French, who were willing to largest island in the world and the most mountainous. In some distant past it was a part of continental Australia. Due to some volcanic upheaval of the earth's surface, a section of the continent sank beneath the water, leaving a channel. This Torres strait in honor of the Spanish explorer who first charted the area more than three centuries ago.

Because New Guinea was once a part of Australia, it has some of the same animals and bird life and much the same vegetation. The climate is terrifically hot and humid, except in the high mountain regions.

Natives of New Guinea The present natives are very dark, fierce looking people, rather stocky but muscular. In coastal villages where they have been exposed to white civilization and the efforts of many dedicated missionaries, they are superficially civilized, at least. In the mountain villages, however, they were as primitive as they were a thousand years ago. No white man who values his life ventures into that area unless accompanied by native police and plenty of them.

Murder of an enemy is an accepted custom of these mountain natives. A young man is not considered an eligible suitor until he has killed at least one man or woman. If his record shows several murders, he is that much more desirable from the feminine viewpoint.

The various tribes, or clans as they are called, spend their lives preying on each other and after each victory a cannibal feast is held. It is to be noted, however, that even the most savage of these cannibals eat only their enemies, never their friends.

'The Last Cannibal' A book recently published on the customs, beliefs and life of these New Guinea savages is 'The Last Cannibal,' by Bjerre, a young Danish photographer. For some weeks he lived in various mountain villages, gaining the confidence of clan chiefs. He obtained their permission to photograph them, make sound recordings of their language, ritual and religious chants.

The god of these people is a huge snake. Bjerre was permitted to witness one of their rituals in the depths of a jungle a few miles from a mountain village. On one side of a large coconut palm hut was painted a picture of the reptilian god. Here, by the light of fires, the male natives performed their ceremonies to the sound of native drums. No woman is allowed to take part in or witness these ceremonies.

The natives believe that their snake god created the world and all who live on it. They make frequent sacrifices to win their god's approval.

Knights Support Polio Foundation After Seeing Film

Seymour—The Knights of Columbus voted support of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis after they saw a film telling the story of Bimbo Weyers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Weyers, route 1, Black Creek. The film was produced by the foundation and depicts the struggle against polio.

al Black Creek boy's struggle against polio. Vernon Lubinski and Herb Wendt have been named delegates to the state convention at Wisconsin Dells, May 19 and 20. Fabian Trembl and Tony Weyers are the alternates. Bill Baye, recreation director of the Green Bay reformatory, will be the speaker at the Knights of Columbus communion breakfast at Isaar Palm Sunday.

Waupaca—House plants will be the April homemaker project throughout the county according to Kathryn Tubbs, home agent.

The first leaders training meet will be held for Waupaca area homemakers at 1 o'clock Thursday in the courthouse. Leading the meeting will be Louis M. Berninger, horticulturist from the University of Wisconsin.

He will discuss plant soils, containers, watering, fertilizing, lighting, disease and insect control and a number of other factors in successful plant growing.

Attending the first meet will be Mrs. Robert Ewald and Mrs. Paul Jensen, Barton club; Mrs. Albert Munding and Mrs. Harry Sorenson, Casey; Mrs. Harold Greenwood and Mrs. Oscar Johnson, Cedar Lake; Mrs. Carl Peterson and Mrs. Arvid Swanberg, Crystal Lake; Mrs. Henry Bille, Dayton; Mrs. Finn Anderson and Mrs. P. P. Johnson, Granite Quarry, and Mrs. Harry Rasmussen and Mrs. Edwin Schroeder, King.

Others will be Mrs. Albert Peters and Mrs. Darrel Scheider, Maple Grove club; Mrs. Gene Hoyer and Mrs. Alton Johnson, Pac-a-doers; Mrs. Anna Hansen and Mrs. Alvin Peterson, Pac-a-doers; Mrs. Clifford Head and Mrs. Orrie Johnson, Sunny View; Mrs. Bill Blomman and Mrs. Otto Wurzbach, Twenty Tilers, and Mrs. Robert Kneisler and Mrs. Beryl Stech, Variety Pack.

Mrs. Kenneth Waid is the Waupaca center chairman for this month.

A Housing Development for Birds was added to Chilton's Klinkner park when members of the Garden club and their families hung a number of dwellings for wrens, bluebirds and tree swallows. Martin houses will be added when they are completed. Dr. Royal Kiofanda places one of the bird houses while, from the left, Kenneth Guenther, Mrs. Frank Koehler, and Mrs. Oscar Schaub offer advice and keep track of equipment. (Seboria Photo)

Review Ordered of Manawa Assessment

Residents Petition Court; Claim Assessor Erred in Valuation, Board Prejudiced

Waupaca—An order has been issued by Waupaca circuit court instructing Manawa City Clerk Charles W. Adsit to produce complete certified records and evidence presented in board of review hearings held in Manawa last December.

The writ was petitioned for by M. G. Hales, Carl Sturm, Clarence Sturm, Paul Sturm, Arthur Sturm, Sturm and Jensen and Mrs. Carl Sturm. They claim that the assessor failed to give proper weight to the fair market value of homes in Manawa and that the board was prejudiced and proceeded improperly.

Assessment Boost

Manawa was reassessed last year and the new assessment rolls were under study by the board of review.

The reassessment increased the valuation of Manawa property to $2,983,480 from an evaluation of $1,202,328. The state's recommended "full" assessment evaluation for the city was $2,981,225 last year. Manawa's tax levy is $95.16.

Green Bay Cheese

Green Bay — Cheese prices dropped 14-15 cents Friday at the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange. Opening offers were placed at previous current levels and dropped gradually until cheddars fell to 31 1/2. Junior grade cheddars 30 1/2. Both down 1. One car pasteurized single daisies offered at 35 1/2 but fell to 34 at close. Uncovered offers were one car cheddars 32, one car junior grade cheddars 30 1/2, one car pasteurized single daisies 34 cents. Trading tone weak.

Marriage Applications

Waupaca—Marriage license applications were issued to the following couples this week by A. L. Anderson, county clerk: Linda Lucinda Raisler, Clintonville, and Fred Oscar Jahn, Clintonville.

Iris Anna Schultz, Manawa, and Robert Elwood Farmer, town of Menasha.

WSWS Elects New President

EUB Organization Schedules Annual Sale for April 16

Brillion — Mrs. L. H. Hui-bregtse has been elected president of the Woman's Society of World Service at the Evangelical United Brethren church. Mrs. Stanley Heimke, retiring president, will serve as vice president.

Mrs. Hilmer Johnson was elected secretary and Mrs. Cora Wiegert was reelected treasurer. Mrs. Lawrence Filyes was elected secretary of spiritual life and Mrs. Edwin Reinke will serve her fourth term as secretary of Christian social relations.

Heading the missionary education committee is Mrs. Gilbert Wolfmeyer.

April 16 is the date set for the annual rummage sale under the direction of Mrs. Hui-bregtse. A lunch will be served with Mrs. Art Radloff and Mrs. Cora Wiegert in charge. The two women will also be chairmen of the supper to be served at the Youth rally on April 27 at the church.

The Lord's Supper carving will be installed in the church April 14. Edmund Behnke is making a stand for the Memorial book which is to be used to record memorials.

Mrs. Otto Zorn was appointed chairman of the April meeting to be assisted by Mrs. Nora Tamm and Mrs. Henry Bastian. Mrs. Gordon Core, Mrs. Louis Johnson and Mrs. Gilbert Wolfmeyer will be the hostesses.

Board Hikes Teachers' Pay

Clintonville Base Salary Upped From $3,700 to $3,850

Clintonville — At its meeting Thursday night, the board of education discussed the salary schedule of the teachers and decided not to change its earlier proposal. The board increased the base pay from $3,700 to $3,850 annually plus a merit rating plan. No other changes were made in the schedule.

The Clintonville Teachers' Association previously had proposed that the base pay be increased to $4,000 annually plus several other changes in the schedule.

The board met at the senior high school for dinner before the business meeting. The dinner was prepared and served by members of the senior home economics class under the supervision of Miss Phyllis Rickfort, home economics instructor.

New London Cancer Fund Drive Planned

New London—A "Neighbor-To-Neighbor" cancer crusade will be held here April 9-18, Mrs. Paul Palmer, chairman announced.

Mrs. Palmer said there will be no double solicitation as the drive will be confined to residences only. She added that letters will be sent to industries and organizations.

Plans for the campaign were made Thursday night at the American Legion clubhouse and three movies on cancer were shown. Mrs. Robert White is co-chairman of the drive.

Ward chairmen are Mrs. El-dred Judd, First ward; Mrs. Victor Frye, Second; Mrs. Raymond Prahl, Third; Mrs. O. W. Capener, Fourth, and Mrs. Guy Ingersoll, Fifth.

The ward chairmen will meet Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Palmer, 415 W. Spring street.

WITHIN THE PAST two months, the Gibson company has opened two spacious, well-lighted used car lots in Menasha (above) and Appleton (below) featuring new Chevrolet, Cadillac and Buick trade-ins. Realizing that more than ever, today's used car buyer wants and looks for used cars comparable to new cars in comfort, appearance, performance, safety, economy, and durability, Gibson company lots feature cars maintained and reconditioned far beyond the normal.

IRA COLLAR
Menasha Lot Manager

The Appleton lot is managed by Don Beach, well-known Appleton resident with over 15 years experience in the automobile business. Ira Collar, the Menasha lot manager, has had over 10 years of experience in the auto field. Both Mr. Beach and Mr. Collar carry out most capably the Gibson's policy of completely re-conditioning all late model used cars, and selling all cars quickly, economically and honestly. All late model cars are backed up with Chevrolet's famous OK warranty.

LOWEST COST bank or General Motors Acceptance corporation financing is offered at both lots. This represents a savings in the real cost of the used car from which every Gibson buyer may benefit. The company's big Chevrolet, Cadillac, and Buick volume demands that used cars be sold quickly and at the most competitive price in order to receive and sell the hundreds and hundreds of trade-ins each year.

Both lots are open daily from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m., except Sundays when hours are 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

In addition to the unusually fine stock of all model used cars being shown at present, the company says, both lots are featuring a weekend special: 1957 4-door Chevrolets; excellent family cars in beautiful like-new condition at only $1495.

1958 Chevrolet executive cars may also be purchased at only $1988.

THE RAMBLER AMERICAN, newest entry in the U. S. automobile market combines the economy and handling ease of the small European cars with the performance, comfort and roominess of the large American cars. Built on a 100-inch wheelbase, the five-passenger, two-door American is offered in a deluxe or super sedan, and will have the lowest advertised-delivery price of any U. S.-built car. The Rambler American is the only small car available with an automatic transmission, as well as standard synchromesh and optional overdrive. The new car is powered by a six-cylinder L-head engine developing 90 horsepower. Rambler dealer at Forest Junction is Stebane Nash. Phone number of the firm is Forest Junction 26.

The American, Abernethy said, makes a perfect addition to American Motors' line of compact and small cars—the 108-inch wheelbase Rambler Six and Rambler Rebel V-8, the 117-inch wheelbase Ambassador V-8, and the imported Metropolitan, which has a wheelbase of 85 inches.

The American is roomy, offering 58 inches of front-seat hiproom and 45 1/2 inches of rear-seat hiproom. Legroom dimensions are 44 inches in the front and 37 1/2 in the rear. This provides more than adequate and comfortable room for five passengers, Abernethy said.

Reclining Seats
The American boasts such famous American Motors features as reclining seats, all-welded single-unit construction, "body-dip" rust preventative to prolong the life of the car's body, the Weather Eye heating and ventilating system, and others.

Tastefully styled, the Rambler American will retain "styling stability," thus maintaining a high resale value in line with the company's philosophy of making the American only 35 feet, compared with the nation's most economical average of 42 1-3 feet for other cars to buy, operate and sell. As a further aid to economy of operation for "do-it-yourself" owners, an owner's handbook showing how to make minor repairs and adjustments will be provided.

The new model is powered by a six-cylinder L-head engine developing 90 horsepower. With overdrive and favorable drive-interior finish. Upholsteries are of nylon-blend fabrics with overdrive and favorable drive-interior finish. Upholsteries are of nylon-blend fabrics with overdrive and favorable drive-interior finish.

EASTER STOCKS of quality children's shoes in the children's shoe department at the Heckert Shoe company, 119 E. College avenue, are now at a seasonal peak for the Spring season, the store announced Friday. Increased stocks of famous Pied Piper and Lazy Bones shoes for children can be found in the store's spacious department which was remodeled for greater capacity about this time in 1957. Mrs. Fidelis Masters, children's shoe consultant in charge of the department, shown above, keeps size records of her many small customers, and when it's time for a size-change, sends reminders to parents to bring their children in for free foot-growth check-ups.

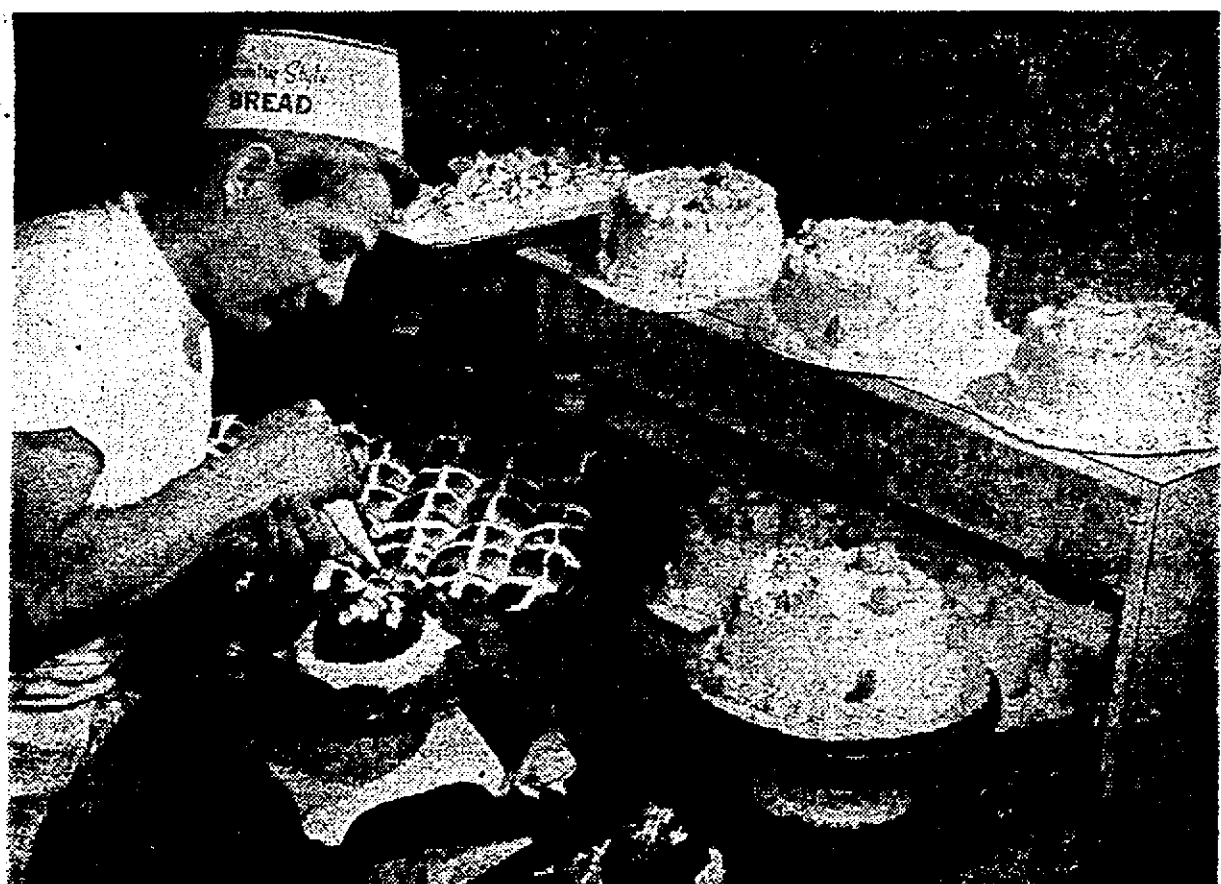

Famous Pied Piper, Lazy Bones, and Gerwinette shoes for children are featured at the Appleton store, and are priced from $4.50 to $10.50.

Heckert's, 1956 winner of the coveted "Number One Brand Name-Shoe Retailer" title in the nation, called attention, too, to its large Easter gift selection of children's slippers and outdoor footwear.

Parents were reminded that to protect their children's health during the Spring season, they should stop in to outfit their families in sensible, cold-preventing rubber footwear.

Phone number at the Appleton store's children's Easter shoe headquarters is RE 3-3526.

Under 15 Feet
Designed to take advantage of the trend toward compact and small economy cars, the Rambler American is less than 15 feet long, compared with an average of 17 feet for other U. S. cars for 1958. Turning diameter of the new model is only 35 feet, compared with the nation's most economical average of 42 1-3 feet for other cars to buy, operate and sell.

holstery is offered at no extra cost.

Seats have full coil-spring construction for maximum comfort. Foam rubber on the front seat is standard on Super models and optional on others. The back of the front seat is split off-center so that the third person in the front seat will not be sitting with the seat separation at his back.

The round instrument cluster is directly in front of the driver for easy readability of operating gauges. A 12-volt transistor-powered radio is positioned in the center of the instrument panel. A large pull-out glove drawer is located below the right side of the instrument panel.

The 90-horsepower L-head six-cylinder engine has a compression ratio of 8.0 to 1 and a piston displacement of 195.6 cubic inches. Bore and stroke measurements are 3 1/4 inches by 4 1/4 inches. The engine compartment design offers excellent service accessibility.

Country Club Offers Land for Oneida Bridge

Would Make Gift of .75 Acres if City Will Revise Course

Riverview Country club officials told the board of public works Friday they would be willing to give .75 acres for the S. Oneida street bridge right-of-way if the city will make revisions on their golf course layout to compensate for loss of the No. 1 hole.

The works board instructed Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski to look over the course with greenskeepers of Reid Municipal Golf course and report back to the board.

Board members also asked City Atty. Don Jury to give them an opinion on whether it is legal for the city to do work on private property under these circumstances.

Riverview officials estimated cost of needed revisions because of loss of No. 1 hole at $8,750. They would want that much in compensation for the land if the city doesn't do the revising work itself.

Under the plan, the new No. 1 tee will be placed in about the center of the present No. 1 fairway, with present No. 2 green becoming No. 1 green. Present Nos. 3 and 4 holes would become Nos. 2 and 3, respectively, and a completely new No. 4 hole would be built on land the club owns but is not now using, lying south of present No. 4 fairway. Golfers would shoot from west to east on the new hole, then shoot west off a new No. 5 tee, south of the new No. 4 green, to present No. 5 green which would be turned around and moved a few feet to the west Nos. 6, 7, 8 and 9 would be unchanged.

Whatever the results of the negotiations, club officials said, the agreement reached would have to be submitted to a vote of the club's membership because a land transaction is involved.

Duszynski reported the city probably will not be ready for revision work until mid-September or after.

5 Calumet County Boys Admit Equipment Thefts

Several Hundred Dollars Worth of Car Parts, Tools, Taken by Youths

Chilton — Five Calumet county boys, from 14 to 17 years old, have admitted theft of several hundred dollars worth of car parts, tools, parts of road working machines and electrical equipment, Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky said this morning.

Some of the boys, under questioning by Kosmosky and Brillion Police Chief Delos Reynolds since Thursday, have implicated two other youths, one from Brown county.

Among the items which the boys admitted stealing are hubcaps, tires, wheels, car blankets, inner tubes, aerials, electric clocks and radios. They also said they took such road machinery parts as a carburetor, a crusher cable, an electric drill, small tools, a cutting torch and several hoses.

From 3 Garages They said a large part of the stolen goods are from a garage at Potter and two garages in Brillion.

The boys also were questioned about acts of vandalism in the area, including damage to the yard and lawn of Chief Reynolds. The Manitowoc sheriff's department has indicated it intends to question the boys about similar thefts and acts of vandalism in the Reedsville and Valders areas.

One of the youths is being held in Calumet county jail and the others have been released in custody of their parents pending further investigation.

It is expected the boys will be brought into juvenile court at Chilton next week.

Bright Day Again in Fox Cities

Spring sunshine bathed the Fox Cities again this morning. The same weather picture was general throughout the state.

Appleton temperatures reached a mild 50 degrees Friday, with the overnight low at 29. At 10:45 this morning, according to the weather station of the Wisconsin Michigan Power company, the temperature was 46 degrees with a promise that the sunshine was to send it up even more.

Friday was Wisconsin's seventh consecutive day without any precipitation. The dryness was a hallmark of the high pressure ridge dominating the state's weather picture. The ridge extended from Hudson Bay to the Gulf of Mexico.

State Readings

Maximum temperatures in Wisconsin Friday ranged from 53 at La Crosse and Lone Rock to 43 in the Superior-Duluth region. All the readings, except at Milwaukee, were three to eight degrees above normal. Milwaukee's recording of 44 was one degree below the seasonal normal.

Wisconsin's overnight minimum marks ranged from 18 in the Superior-Duluth area to 28 at Milwaukee. Grand Marais, Mich., and the Marquette, Mich., airport 10 degrees, the nation's lowest mark.

The nation's highest reading Friday was 85 at Presidio, Texas.

May Cast Absentee Ballots Through Monday Afternoon

Prize Home

Open to Public

Today, Sunday

An open house will be held today and Sunday at the prize home, 345 Park Ridge avenue, Grand Chute, won last year in a national contest by Mrs. Frank Rhode, Appleton school teacher.

Open house will be from 1:30 to 4:30 in the afternoon on both days.

The house was built under supervision of the Lumber Dealers Research council and constructed jointly by licensed Fox Cities dealers—Fraser Lumber company, Appleton, Home Lumber and Millwork company and Lumber Mart, both of Neenah.

Bedroom furniture was supplied by the Leath Furniture company and living room furniture by the Wichmann Furniture company. It features an all-electric kitchen with a heating and air conditioning unit.

Mrs. Rhode received the home for winning a national photo caption contest sponsored by Visking company, Chicago.

Boys Mix Chemical,

Sugar; Try to Set

Off Trail of Smoke

Two boys, aged 13 and 14, mixed up a batch of potassium nitrate and sugar and tried to start a trail of smoke in the rear of the Appleton Coated Paper company, 1200 N. Meade street, Friday evening.

The boys were caught by police, who reprimanded them and sent them home. A watchman saw the boys trying to light the mixture, which they had laid in a trail leading to a pile of wood.

The boys told police the mixture would make a lot of smoke. Police were not convinced.

Six Churches Will Confirm Young People

Protestant Parishes Conduct Ceremonies On Palm Sunday

Six Protestant churches will confirm 121 young people during Palm Sunday ceremonies Sunday morning. It is traditional in many Protestant churches to hold confirmation on Palm Sunday.

At Our Saviour Lutheran church, seven boys and girls will be confirmed during 9 o'clock rites conducted by the Rev. Karlton W. Wagner, assistant pastor of Trinity Lutheran church. Confirmants will receive their first communion Easter Sunday.

Thirty-two young people are listed as confirmands at St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran church. The Rev. F. M. Brandt, pastor, will officiate.

Communicant membership in St. Matthew Evangelical Lutheran church will be attained by 15 during 9:30 rites Sunday morning with the Rev. Sylvester Johnson, pastor, officiating.

21 Young People

At First English Lutheran church, confirmation ceremonies for 21 young people are scheduled for 10:30 Sunday morning with the Rev. F. C. them.

St. John Evangelical and Reformed church announces eight young people will be confirmed at 8:30 Sunday morning. The Rev. John Seidler, pastor, will officiate and, in addition, will receive 13 adults into the church.

The largest class is scheduled by Zion Lutheran church where 38 boys and girls will be confirmed at 10:30 in the morning. An adult class will be confirmed at 7:30 the same morning, both under the Rev. W. H. Gamelin, pastor.

VFW Auxiliary Names Officers

Mrs. Fern Guyette was re-elected president of the Nichols Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary Thursday night.

Other officers re-elected include Mrs. Rosemary Klein, senior vice president, Mrs. Maude Schinke, secretary, Miss Marcella Hahn, treasurer, Miss Gertrude Vincentsen, chaplain, Mrs. Margaret Leeman, conductress, and Mrs. Gladys Mielke, guard.

Trustees are Mrs. Grace Johnson and Mrs. Germaine Burton.

Delegates named to attend the district convention at Mishicot in May are Mrs. Schinke and Mrs. Leeman.

Mrs. Doris Dufans, Two Rivers, district president inspected the unit. She was accompanied by Mrs. Sophia Zielinski, a sister of Two Rivers.

A $10 donation was made to the Heart Fund.

Man Arrested on Same Charge For Which He Got Probation

Clifford Merholtz, 37, Milwaukee, Friday was released to go back to work in Milwaukee after Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede found he had been arrested on a warrant charging non-support while on probation for an identical offense.

Merholtz was put on probation Jan. 21 after his wife, Gertrude, charged that he failed to support her and their children, aged 7 and 4.

A warrant, sworn to by Mrs. Merholtz, charging non-support was issued March 4. Dist. Atty. George Greisch Friday was asked by Judge Schmiede why he had not talked to Merholtz, probation officer. Greisch had a letter from the man's probation agent recommending that he be kept on probation because he was making payments to his wife and it would cost the state about $150 monthly to jail him.

City Asks Dismissal Of Bad Conduct Charge

A charge of disorderly conduct was dismissed Friday against Raymond Korth, 34, 219 N. Durkee street, on the request of City Atty. Don Jury.

Korth was arrested Dec. 2 after police were called to his home by a neighbor to whom his two small daughters had fled, crying that their father was going to beat them.

Korth has a record of convictions dating from 1954, including five for disorderly conduct and three for drunkenness.

Auto Workers Will Vote on Union April 10

Automotive Employees In Appleton, Branches To Cast Ballots

Automotive Supply Company, Inc., workers April 10 will choose between Employees Independent union or no union at all in the firm's Appleton office and seven branch offices.

The National Labor Relations board will conduct the election, sending a ballot box from the Appleton office to branches at Chilton, Clintonville, Kaukauna, Neenah, New London, Oshkosh and Waupaca. About 30 employees are in the bargaining unit, four of them in the Appleton office.

The workers in Appleton are in specific classifications outside the 17 workers covered by Local 563 of the General Drivers and Dairy Employees union. The NLRB previously dismissed a petition by Employees Independent to decertify the Teamsters as a bargaining agent because the Employees petition was not filed at the correct time.

The board ruled after nearly two years of hearings and deliberations that the auto parts supply firm must bargain with the Teamsters. During the hearing, Employees Independent was formed at the company and was allowed to intervene in the hearings. The two bargaining units are not overlapping under the board's ruling.

Elected Executive Vice President of H. C. Prange Store

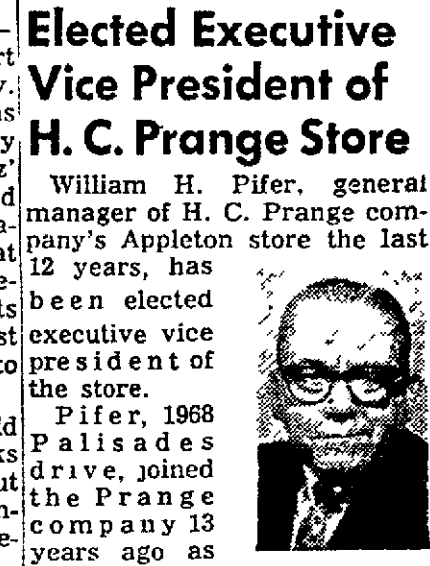

William H. Pifer, general manager of H. C. Prange company's Appleton store the last 12 years, has been elected executive vice president of the store.

Pifer, 1968 Palisades drive, joined the Prange company 13 years ago as general merchandising manager and assistant store manager at the Green Bay store. He joined the company after 29 years with Youngers Department store, Des Moines, Ia., where he had been merchandising manager.

The promotion was announced by H. Carl Prange, company president, Friday.

The company's board of directors also have elected Jerry Atkinson as executive vice president of the Green Bay store and Milford H. Prange as executive vice president of the Sturgeon Bay store.

Company officers are H. Carl Prange, president; E. C. Hoyer and William H. Kohl, vice presidents; Gordon Jaschob, secretary; Otto A. Hansohn, treasurer; and William H. Gunther, assistant treasurer.

Pifer, 1968 Palisades drive, joined the Prange company 13 years ago as general merchandising manager and assistant store manager at the Green Bay store.

Two Boys Graduate From Cub Pack 40

Robert Van Dyke and Richard Anderson were graduated to Boy Scout ranks in ceremonies held by Columbus school Cub Scout Pack 40.

William Folz received a denner stripe. Thomas Schultz was awarded a gold arrow emblem.

Inducted into the pack were Jon Van Dyke, Henry Meyer, Timothy Rogers, David and Michael Nanner and Steven Smith.

Kenneth Griffith, cubmaster, and James Pulling, chairman, participated in the ceremonies.

Grand Chute Sets Tuesday Voting Hours

Grand Chute polls will be open from 9 o'clock in the morning until 8 o'clock Tuesday night, Town Clerk Leslie Woldt said today.

First precinct electors will vote at the town hall on Highway 41. Second precinct polls are at the American Legion club on W. College avenue.

Electors of that part of former non-operating District 10 attached to the Appleton school system will be eligible to vote for school board candidates, the clerk said.

Electors on former non-operating District 1, also attached to the city for school purposes, have been ruled ineligible to vote for school board members pending an appeal by the city. The ruling was made by City Atty. Don Jury.

Grand Chute electors living in Joint School Districts 2 and 13 (with the town of Greenville) will vote on a referendum to consolidate all Greenville school districts. All Grand Chute voters will be able to cast ballots in the supreme court election.

Woldt reminded citizens the annual town meeting will be held at 8 o'clock Tuesday night at the town hall.

He said 1,000 town financial reports will be distributed to residents today.

Rural Black Creek Woman Sent to Jail

Ennice Kuba, 34, route 2, Black Creek, was sentenced to a year in the county jail after Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede revoked her probation Friday.

She was placed on probation last April 27 for lewd and lascivious conduct. She was arrested in the home of a parolee in Appleton. He also is in the county jail. The woman will be allowed to work out of the jail on the day parole plan, Judge Schmiede ruled.

Lions Speaker

Krissi Komsa, a Finnish exchange student, will talk to the Appleton Lions club Monday noon at the Conway hotel.

Court Ballot County-Wide

Rest of Election Confined to Local Candidates, Issues

Outagamie county voters Tuesday will decide on one of two men for state supreme court justice.

Residents of the county's cities will elect mayors, other city officials, aldermen, county board supervisors and school board members.

Residents of the villages will be picking trustees.

Each town will hold an annual meeting, but there are no elections this year of town officials.

And there will be a smattering of referenda in the local level balloting.

The state supreme court justice election is a non-partisan affair. Incumbent Emmett L. Wingert is opposed by William H. Dieterich.

Polls generally will open somewhere between 7 and 9 o'clock in the morning and close between 5 and 8 o'clock at night.

Barbara Helen Cary To Exchange Vows With Ernest Pleger

Miss Barbara Helen Cary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Van Etten Cary, 219 S. Rankin street, will become the bride of Ernest William Pleger, Madison, in a 2:30 nuptial ceremony this afternoon at Memorial Presbyterian church, the Rev. Clifford J. Pierson officiating.

Mr. Pleger, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer W. Pleger, Vassar, Mich., will claim his bride in a double ring rite. Mrs. Robert Ward, LaCrosse, will perform as soloist during the ceremony, accompanied by Howard Nussbicker, who served as organist at the marriage of the bride's parents.

Miss Cary will be given in marriage by her father and be attended by her sister, Carolyn, as maid of honor. Bridesmaids will be Mrs. John H. Pellette, Madison, and the Misses Leanna Seton, cousin of the bride, and Phyllis Pirner.

Male members of the wedding party will be Mr. Pellette, best man, Thomas E. Pleger, Livonia, Mich., brother of the bridegroom, Robert Studt, Arcadia, and Clair M. Poad, Hancock.

The Crystal room of the Conway hotel will be the site of a reception immediately following the wedding ceremony. Assisting at the reception will be Mrs. Therese Gottlieb, Mrs. Daniel Riehle and Miss Nancy Lee, all of Appleton. The wedding party was feted Friday night at a rehearsal dinner at the parental Cary home.

Mr. Pleger and his bride will reside at 2808 Commercial avenue in Madison, where he is a third-year student at the University of Wisconsin law school.

The bride received her bachelor of science degree in sociology from the University of Wisconsin and has been employed as a case worker for the Outagamie county department of public welfare. Her bridegroom graduated from Michigan State university, East Lansing, with a bachelor of arts degree in psychology. He is affiliated with Sigma Nu and Phi Delta Phi fraternities.

American Ballet Termed Interesting

BY MILTON MARMOR

London —P— The director of the famed Bolshoi Theater's ballet school in Moscow says the American ballet is doing many interesting things which she would like to see.

"But remember that American ballet owes much to the teachings of such Russians as Fokine and Mordkin," said Elena Bocharnikova. She is on a 2-week tour of Britain.

The young-looking 40-year-old director said she would be glad to go to the United States.

"It would be exciting, really, to see the amalgam of the Russian creative mind and the American way of life."

"Many great Russian dancers as well as teachers have been in the United States."

She defended Soviet ballet against criticism that it has failed to keep up with the times — charges made when the Bolshoi appeared in Britain two years ago.

"The Bolshoi has absorbed much from the art of folk dances and also has taken some of the elements of present day sports and even acrobatics," the red-haired Russian ballet authority said.

"But it keeps the classical form. We must speak the language of the classical dance and not cross the border to naturalism."

During her stay here Bocharnikova watched the royal ballet — the former Sadler's Wells — at almost every performance. At other times she visited ballet schools, talked to ballet leaders and other cultural leaders.

She commented, politely, that she found something lacking in the depth of emotion felt for the music by British dancers. She blamed the choreography. That criticism, especially because she had mentioned the Royal Ballet's interpretation of "Swan Lake" as an example, brought a reply from one British ballet authority that the "Swan Lake" choreography was the original Russian one.

"Then it's old fashioned," she said and laughed.

Students Home For Vacation

Four Appleton girls who are students at Prospect Hall secretarial school will be home for their spring vacation from Wednesday April 2 to Monday, April 7.

The students are Miss Frances Bartz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Bartz, 1715 W. Wisconsin avenue; Miss Mary Ella Gloss, daughter of Mrs. S. M. Gloss, 2727 E. Wisconsin avenue; Miss Patricia Rae Goodwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Goodwin, 1424 E. Dewey street; and Miss Mary Sue Kerrigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Kerrigan, 326 E. Wisconsin avenue.

Methodist WSCS Plans Luncheon, Lenten Program

The Women's Society of Christian Service will meet at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the dining hall of First Methodist church for a luncheon. Circle 5, with Mrs. Frans Vaurio as chairman, will be the hostess group.

A business meeting and lent-themed program is planned for after the luncheon, with the WSCS program committee in charge.

The society's executive board will meet at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning in the social union room of the church.

Future events of the WSCS will include an annual "spring salad" luncheon on Thursday, April 10, from noon to 1:30. Violette, Mrs. Jake Vermer, Mrs. William Arnold is serving as ticket chairman for the program and ticket sales also are being handled by circle chair, Zimmerman, and Miss Dorothy man and at the church office.

A rummage sale is being planned by the society for April 25.

Don Bosco Guild Lists April Events

April activities of the Don Bosco guild will begin with a meeting Tuesday night, April 8, at St. Joseph school. Nominations of officers for election in May will be made at this meeting.

Sunday, April 13, the guild will attend the 9:15 mass at St. Joseph church and that evening, a potluck supper is planned for 5:30 in the St. Joseph school cafeteria. There will be a white elephant sale in conjunction with the supper.

Volleyball is scheduled for Tuesday, April 15, at the St. Joseph gymnasium. Play will begin at 8 o'clock.

Sunday, April 20, the guild will have a bowling party in Sherwood, with interested members meeting at the Catholic club at 12:45 in the afternoon.

Well-Informed Teenager Reads Daily Newspaper

BY YIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeature

"I saw Sputnik way up in the sky," bragged a little fellow to his high school baby sitter, a while back.

Do you think she understood that kind of baby talk? Perish the thought. She'd never heard of earth satellites, it turned out, and perhaps doesn't now know that the United States has tossed two of its own into orbit.

How many teen-agers live in that little vacuum, passing through this wondrous age without curiosity or awareness? And why hasn't their interest been aroused by parents or teachers?

Time was when the daily paper was required reading for high school students, considered essential to keeping up with current events. But maybe Susie, like Johnny, can't read.

Read Your Newspaper

The American newspaper is the most rewarding investment that one can make at a price that doesn't even pay for the newspaper. Just test it. Go through the paper from start to finish, and see for yourself.

A newspaper offers diaries of events that history may never record in such detail. These accounts of our times are priceless ways to absorb knowledge, step by step, on the educational ladder.

What's in a daily newspaper anyway?

There is news — everything you want to know that has happened since the last edition, if it is fit to print.

The newspaper is pure gold for today's science student, acquainting him with the strides being made in the vast scientific world. Book reviews stimulate a literary bent. Theatre reviews dissect drama, opera, the stage. And where, I ask you, but in the newspaper can you find a daily vocabulary builder like the challenging crossword puzzle?

There are news feature stories to offer a forward look into the world of other people—the way they live, sleep, eat, dress, their work and hobbies.

A student of economics can learn a great deal about debentures and deficits from financial pages. And then there are the editorials, helping to analyze the news and the paper's interpretation of it.

You don't have to agree with the writer, but it's stimulating to see the other fellow's point of view. Newspapers haven't lost their sense of humor through the years either, and you can still find cartoons and comics strips to give you a laugh.

Reporters over the world write first hand accounts of their news experiences, sometimes gathered at great personal risk. It's for you to read to find, why wait until you are a college senior to read the digested version?

The daily newspaper keeps you informed, too, of what is happening in government and community. Our syndicated news service also keep radio and TV updated with news and they may pick up the slack until newspaper edition time.

From weather forecast to want ads, the newspaper spells service to the citizen. It is such a time honored institution that perhaps it is taken for granted, especially by young people.

In Good Taste Proper to Keep Picture In This Case

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: The son of a friend of mine has just recently married for the second time. His first wife, to whom he was married for 20 years and of whom my friend was very fond, died several years ago. My friend is living with her son and new daughter-in-law whom she likes very much. While paying her a visit the other day I noticed she had a picture of her first daughter-in-law in her room. I was quite surprised at this and told her I thought it was wrong and very unfair to her present daughter-in-law. She disagreed with me and so we decided to write for your opinion.

Answer: There is no reason in the world why she should cease caring for someone she has loved for a long time and it certainly takes nothing away from the affection which she is now beginning to feel for her new daughter-in-law. Of course, if she continuously extolled the virtues of the former one to the detriment of the present one, that would be another story.

Tipping Doorman

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to tip the doorman at a hotel for getting a taxi? If so, how much should he be given?

Answer: Not if he merely opens the door of a taxi already in front of the door, but if he has to go and find one for you, you must tip him. The amount you give him will depend on how hard taxis are to find at that time.

Guild to Meet

The Afternoon guild of All Saints Episcopal church will meet at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Don Bradley, 115 E. Roosevelt street. Mrs. W. C. Devine will review the book, "Threshold of the Pacific and Hawaii."

Spring Conference of B'nai B'rith Youth Set

Over 75 young people are expected to attend the 2-day spring convocation of the Fox Valley B'nai B'rith Youth organization, which will be held at the Appleton Moses Montefiore social center this weekend.

The young people will arrive for the conference this afternoon, and this evening will attend a dance in the social center. Sunday events will feature a dinner and general meeting in the afternoon. Election of new officers is slated for Sunday.

John Scribner will lead devotions when Senior High Fellowship of the First Methodist church meets at 7 o'clock Sunday evening in the church social union room. Study will be developed on the book entitled "I Follow."

Diane M. Plamann Bride in Morning Rite

St. Therese Catholic church was the setting of 11 o'clock nuptial rites this morning uniting in marriage Miss Diane Marie Plamann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Wagner, 1615 N. Erb street, and Edward W. Tobin, Jr., son of the Senator Tobins, Waukegan, Ill.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and Miss Sandra Winters served as maid of honor. Miss Alice Nelson was bridesmaid.

The Rev. M. A. Hauch officiated at the double ring ceremony preceding a nuptial mass and Mrs. James Grist was soloist.

Mr. Tobin, Jr., was aided by William Kehoe, Waukegan, best man, and his brother, Gerald, Waukegan, groomsmen. Two other brothers of the bridegroom, Phillip and Paul, served as mass acolytes.

The newlyweds will be honored at a reception from 1 to 3 o'clock at Castle hall. Miss Darlene Grebe, Kaukauna, and Miss Beverly Wallace, Stevens Point, will assist at the buffet table.

After a short honeymoon trip, Mr. Tobin, Jr., who is serving with the army will be stationed at Fort Knox, Ky., and his bride will make her home with her parents.

The bride is a graduate of Appleton High school and studied at St. Mary school of nursing. She is employed as a medical receptionist by Dr. Hubert Hamel.

Her bridegroom graduated from Waukegan Township High school, Waukegan, and Marquette university, where he was affiliated with Iota Eta Sigma.

Top Hats Set Social Calendar

A calendar of social events was decided upon Thursday evening by the officers and directors of the Top Hat dance club. They met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Collar, 52 River drive.

The group scheduled four parties, the first being an informal dance on May 17 at the Valley Inn, Neenah. Another informal dance at the Neenah-Menasha Elks club will take place on Sept. 20.

Dec. 9 is the date set for a semi-formal dinner dance at Butte Des Morts Golf club and the last event of the social season will be a dance Jan. 27 at the Appleton Elks club.

Recently elected officers include Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ertl, co-presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Ald Bradley, 115 E. Roosevelt street, Mrs. W. C. Devine will review the book, "Threshold of the Pacific and Hawaii."

Girl Has Party

Miss Marlene Wirth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wirth, 1530 N. Outagamie street, celebrated her 17th birthday Wednesday afternoon when 15 of her friends gathered at the Wirth residence. Games were played and a lunch was served.

What determines the price of Your Prescription?

The price of your prescription is determined solely by two things—the cost of the prescribed ingredients... plus a reasonable fee for our professional services. There can be no "standard price" for all prescriptions because some ingredients are quite costly, while others are comparatively inexpensive. Then too, some prescriptions require lengthy compounding, while others may be filled in a few minutes. Every prescription brought to us is given the fullest measure of professional skill and care — and is priced fairly and reasonably.

Society's Moral Laws Not Easy to Defy, Says Woman Who Knows

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: Here is another letter that will be labeled "fiction" by some of your readers. Strange how many people who read your column say "Those things don't happen." I wish they were right. My story is a sordid one, but if it will help someone, please print it. I couldn't be more ashamed.

I lived common-law with a man for 15 years. Now he has a younger woman — someone fresh and attractive—like I was when he filled my head with foolishness.

I've gone to visit his new "wife" and tried to make her see what she's doing to herself. But she thinks I'm spiteful and interested only in revenge.

He told her I was an alcoholic which is why he left me. Sure, I drank. Who wouldn't with what I had on my conscience? Living with a man and no ring on my finger, thrown out by my family, ignored by my friends, considered a cheap trollop by the neighbors.

I'm not blaming anyone but myself. He even helped these women who think they can defy God and society. It never works. — ANOTHER MAGDALEN

Now at 25, after dating a fellow for six months, I find my mother has phoned my boy friend's mother and asked that he "not bother me any more."

This fellow who is 27 refuses to call for me at home and wants nothing to do with my mother. He says she's a mental case.

My father says I should move out and lead my own life before I run out of chances to marry. My mother says I will understand how she feels when I have a daughter of my own. I'm terribly torn. What shall I do? — THE BABY

You know very well what you SHOULD do. But if you want to see it in print—here it is:

Listen to your father. This "mother love" is in reality "another love". Move now or you may never get a chance to "have a daughter of your own".

DEAR ANN: My husband is an electrician. We live in a friendly neighborhood — maybe TOO friendly.

A half dozen neighbors think nothing of calling my husband after dinner to "fix something". They always say "It won't take but a minute". He obliges and never sends a bill.

This may sound like a petty complaint, but I'm fed up. My husband is so tired when he comes home I don't have the nerve to ask him to hang a picture we got last Christmas. Any suggestion? — REDDY KILOWAT'S WIFE

Dear Mrs. Kilowat: The best way for him to short circuit these requests (provided he doesn't actually enjoy being "Mr. Fix-it For Nix") is simply to say, "Sorry, I can't make it" — or send a bill for his repairs.

Two Fox Cities students are holding staff positions on the Lawrence college's 1958 "Ariel," the yearbook which covers pictorially a year of campus events.

James Davis, 3605 E. Wisconsin road, is editor of the fraternity and sorority section, and Tom Trettin, Kaukauna, is the faculty and administration editor.

The "Ariel" is published late each spring.

Recently initiated into Alpha Delta Theta social fraternity was Charles Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Schmidt, 312 E. Glendale avenue. He is a freshman at Wisconsin State college, La Crosse, enrolled in the letters and science division.

Leaves of Flame-vine may be three inches long, and are half as broad, toothed along the margins, and a good green color. It seldom flowers indoors, but if it did, the blossoms would be similar to yellow daisies, and they are borne in terminal clusters.

Flame-vine requires a lot of water, which is understandable in view of the extensive leaf surface it develops. I like to use a soil rich with peat, which holds moisture well, and I keep the vine in a window with only morning sun. Too much sun may cause the leaves to show a reddish color, and while this is not objectionable, I prefer to have them remain green.

Propagate Flame-vine by tip or stem cuttings, inserted in a glass of water. If the cuttings wilt badly, either reduce their length or else cover them with perforated plothim.

Flame-Vine

Indoor Gardening

Flame-Vine Climbs Rapidly, One of Easiest Plants to Grow

BY KATHERINE B. WALKER

Because so many people seem partial to vining plants, today we have one that has long been a favorite of mine. It is Flame-vine, usually listed by growers as Senecio confusus.

This is one of the easiest plants I have ever grown, and since it branches freely from the base and from nodes, it doesn't get straggly-looking as so many vines tend to do with age. It climbs rapidly, reflexing its leaf-petioles to grasp any support, but if the support you furnish is too big around for this, the vine will twine instead.

Growth is so rapid it can actually be measured from day to day, and for this reason Flame-vine finds scant favor in outdoor gardens in Florida except for use as a quick screen, similar to that furnished by morning-glories and wild cucumber in the north.

Good Green Color

Leaves of Flame-vine may be three inches long, and are half as broad, toothed along the margins, and a good green color. It seldom flowers indoors, but if it did, the blossoms would be similar to yellow daisies, and they are borne in terminal clusters.

Flame-vine requires a lot of water, which is understandable in view of the extensive leaf surface it develops. I like to use a soil rich with peat, which holds moisture well, and I keep the vine in a window with only morning sun. Too much sun may cause the leaves to show a reddish color, and while this is not objectionable, I prefer to have them remain green.

Propagate Flame-vine by tip or stem cuttings, inserted in a glass of water. If the cuttings wilt badly, either reduce their length or else cover them with perforated plothim.

Questions and Answers

Does Kohleria grow from a bulb or does it have fibrous roots?

Kohleria, one of the Gesneriads, grows from a tuberous root.

Now many kinds of Asparagus-fern are there? I have one that I was told is that, but a friend who just bought one by that name says mine must be something else.

I only know of three kinds; Asparagus plumosus with needle-fine strands, A. sprengeri, which has sprays of fern-like effective relief to above described pains in stiffened, aching elbows, fingers, shoulders, hips, ankles and back. There's no waiting for heavy outer coatings to dissolve; no possibility of passing from the system prematurely. One coated pill cannot give you the pain relief you may need for long periods of time. PRUVO designed medication can give you relief when you need it, day or night. PRUVO is all medicine. Every bit goes to work promptly. Moreover, PRUVO contains no habit forming drugs or sodium—safe even for those with heart condition, diabetes or high blood pressure. Only $1.50 for 75 tablets or save more on economy size bottles. Your druggist can tell you there is no non-prescription pain reliever, even at twice the cost, that contains such necessary ingredients or has as much potency per tablet as is found in PRUVO. Taken as directed, you must be satisfied with trial size or your money back! Ask your druggist for faster-acting PRUVO today and feel the difference!

Patri Discusses Neighborly Duty Versus Plain Nosiness

BY ANGELO PATRI

Just how far does a neighbor's duty toward another's children go before it becomes nosiness? Doesn't that depend upon the attitude of the neighbor and on the circumstances? If a neighbor saw another's child in danger he would, without asking any questions, get him out of there fast. He would be expected to do so. Nobody could question his duty there.

The question of interference is likely to arise with the behavior of adolescent boys and girls. A neighbor sees the daughter or the son of a nearby family somewhere he thinks the child should not be, or doing what he thinks the child's parents would not want him to do. If he says nothing or does nothing he may feel pricks of conscience. If he telephones he is likely to anger the parents instead of arousing their gratitude.

It all depends upon the attitudes of the worried neighbor and of those he would warn of their children's danger, danger in his mind.

There is an old saying fit to the point, "Don't tell all you know." If one sees a child straying it is best to wait until one can speak to him, advise him as a friend, caution him and keep still about the whole matter.

If the child continues to stray, warn him that his parents must be told about it if he doesn't forget about this sort of behavior.

But this only if the behavior is serious. The children of junior and the first year or so of senior secondary schools are often crude, noisy, and unruly, especially on the way home from schools in the afternoon when they are throwing off the pressure of the school routine.

They can be rowdy in the cars, buses and the candyshop. Don't look. Don't listen. This is not serious behavior. It will pass.

However, if a child is seen where he should not be at the time, on the street or in the movies, or any other place, when he should be in school, the friendly neighbor should see that child privately and ask some questions, warn him, advise him and keep an open eye on him for a while. If this sort of thing goes on a hint to his parents is certainly in order.

Beauty Back of Head in Focus for Spring

BY MARIAN MATTHEWS

Beauty and fashion are combining to focus new attention on how we look when viewed from the back this spring. Because necklines dip to lower levels, there'll be more interest given the back of the neck and the way your hair is arranged.

Hair for spring may be short — or it may be arranged to give this look. A lovely example of this is a "fleur de lis" created by the Guild of Professional Beauticians which pins up the back of the hair from the nape of the neck but the top layer of the hair falls free over this. The result is a charming, very feminine look that reminds one of great beauties of the past.

While bangs are emerging as important once again in coiffure styles, the head hugging coiffure pays much attention to the back as well. Soft waves in front are contrived to give the full body of a page boy in back though the hair may not turn under quite so precisely. It may be a soft layered effect of deep, thick waves.

When choosing your new coiffure, pay attention to the lines in back. Get an all-over picture if you can, viewing yourself in a full length mirror. One of the flattering points to remember if you are small is that the hair style which shows the nape of the neck, can give you a longer line in back — you can look taller.

Clothes that point up the back with panels, drapery or trimmings have a more important look if your hair accents this with some feeling of back interest as well.

What plants can you suggest for a planter?

This question is received frequently, and is almost impossible to answer unless you give some idea of the size of the planter, its purpose, what light and temperature may be expected, and so on. Since I cannot answer queries of this sort, I usually suggest a good source for both large and small foliage plants, and hope the reader will find something suitable.

How can I tell if a plant food is any good until I try it?

The labels on all plant food containers tell what percentage of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium are in it. The members may read 4-12-4, or 15-30-15, or some other combination, and in addition there may be "trace" elements listed. By comparing labels, you can be fairly sure of what you are buying.

MITCHELL FOR MAYOR

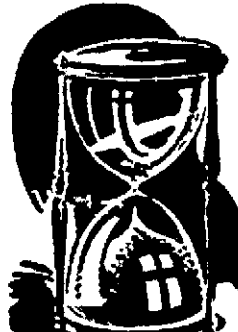

Voters of Appleton

Next Tuesday, April 1st, when you go to the voting booth, you will exercise your role as employer of the future Mayor of Appleton. As such you are definitely interested in knowing the specific program of each candidate. WHAT IS THE BIG ISSUE IN THIS ELECTION? The big issue is that we have not had, nor does the City now have, a long range, forward looking program for Appleton.

With scientific progress, national and world developments, a city must not stand still if it does not want to become a second and third rate city. What are the facts? What is required to keep Appleton a leading focal point of modern progress? As I view it these things are essential:

- Modern Transportation Facilities . . .
Here again Appleton has hit an all-time low. Why did the Chicago and Northwestern Railway close its downtown passenger depot and move out to the Junction? Appleton's short-sighted policy in dealing with the Railroad certainly encouraged the action. Listen to this! Our City arrested and fined the Railroad a number of times for blocking the intersection in excess of 10 minutes . . . while it was loading and unloading passengers and loading and unloading mail to serve the people of Appleton and can you imagine this! Several of the arrests occurred during the rush Christmas mail season. Trainmen report that nowhere has the railroad experienced such arrests on its run from Chicago to Green Bay. Can you blame the Railroad? It has no such money to spend, nor can it be continually harassed by city officials who are unappreciative of good transportation. The closing of the downtown depot is a great loss to Appleton and to the hundreds of students who can ill afford to pay taxi fares to the Junction. Should not our Mayor have concerned himself about this before present facilities were discontinued. Adequate transportation facilities are a must for modern industrial and community progress.
- AS YOUR MAYOR I will set myself to the task immediately, with the help of community leaders, to establish the best kind of transportation facilities. I am confident our people will work with me for this kind of program.
- Appleton Is Badly In Need of a Community Center . . .
—a place for youth, and where conventions and meetings can be held, a center of activity for the entire community. It will be an attraction to many outside groups to come to Appleton. This center will be in the nature of a civic building, an auditorium, depending on what the community leaders, in cooperation with the City Government, believe to be best. Such a project is long overdue.
- What About Industrial Development? . . .
We have come practically to a standstill in this regard. Purchasing a parcel of land in itself is not the answer. What the Mayor does and what kind of a future program does he have to encourage sound industrial progress and expansion providing additional employment? In his recent election pamphlet he states that his future program consists of parking lots, one-way streets, storm sewers, bridges, etc. These are routine needs. They do not constitute a forward looking, long range program. We have waited and waited and talked and talked of the need for a future program for Appleton in an era of modern progress. It has not been forthcoming. It is time for a change.
- Appleton Needs Expanded Hotel and Motel Facilities . . .
to accommodate conventions and groups. I will contact hotel and motel owners with a view to establishing the most inviting kind of facilities for organizations and groups who would like to have their meetings and conventions here. Conventions are a means and a source of interesting executives and leaders of substantial industries to locate in the Appleton area. It will help make Appleton the focal point of modern progress.
- There Is Need for Common Sense . . .
planning and coordination within the City Government. Would you run a business without periodic meetings of your department heads and key staff members? How else can you get the best thinking and the best ideas from city employees whose every effort is devoted to the city's well-being? They should be given an opportunity and medium for putting their best ideas to work. Our City employees have the talent. What is needed is common sense leadership! As your Mayor I will proceed immediately to have group meetings to which persons in all walks of life will be invited. We will roll up our sleeves and go to work for the future good of Appleton. A future plan and program is badly needed. It is time for a change. May I ask for your vote on Tuesday? Please tell your friends.

Townships List Times For Annual Meetings

Supreme Court Race To be Main Contest At Tuesday Voting

Neenah — Annual town meetings will be held Tuesday afternoon by the towns of Clayton, Vinland and Winchester while the towns of Neenah and Menasha will hold their annual meetings Tuesday night.

Town of Clayton's annual meeting will be at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at its town hall. Its polls will be open from 9 o'clock in the morning to 6:30 at night.

A 1:30 meeting Tuesday afternoon is scheduled for town of Winchester residents. The meeting will be at the town hall and the polls will be open from 9 o'clock in the morning to 6 o'clock at night.

Town of Vinland polls will be open from 9 o'clock in the morning to 6 o'clock at night.

Town of Menasha Town of Vinland polls will be morning to 7 o'clock Tuesday night. Its annual meeting will be at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the town hall.

Town of Menasha residents will vote at the Fox Cooperative on County Trunk P between 9 o'clock in the morning and 8 o'clock at night Tuesday. The annual meeting will be at 8 o'clock in the evening and will be at the Fox Cooperative also.

Lakeview schools will be the scene of the town of Neenah annual meeting, set for 8 o'clock in the evening, and the election. The polls also will be open from 9 o'clock in the morning to 8 o'clock at night Tuesday.

Only one contest will be on the ballot for most of the townships, that of the supreme court justice race between Emmert L. Wingert, who was appointed to the court to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Justice Edward J. Gehl, and William H. Dieterich.

School Board Vote

Residents of the eastern side of the town of Menasha, making up the old Maplewood school district which now is attached to the city of Menasha school system, will vote on three school board candidates, choosing from among the six seeking the post.

In the race for that office are James Omachinski and John Pawlowski, elected incumbents, Harold Haberman, appointed incumbent when the membership on the board was increased from five to seven, John Fitzpatrick, William Platt and William Snyder.

Financial reports of the fiscal year ending March 31 will be given at the town meetings and the voters may transact business such as to determine roads to be improved, set salaries of town officials and set budgets.

Twin City Births

Neenah — Theda Clark hospital today reported the birth of a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bruss, route 1, Winneconne.

St. Elizabeth hospital today announced the births of sons to: Mr. and Mrs. John Skotzke, 1147 Higgins avenue, Neenah. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kelley, route 2, Menasha.

more than 1,900 years ago the people of Jerusalem spread palm fronds on His path into the city, a mark of respect reserved for kings.

Since early times palms have been distributed among the faithful on the Sunday before Easter. These blessed palms usually remain in the homes of the Catholics until Palm Sunday a year later.

Church Schedules

At St. Mary church palms will be blessed and distributed before the high mass, which will begin at 8:30. A procession to the outside of the church and back will be held, symbolic of Christ's triumphal entry into the city.

At St. John church palms will be blessed before the 7 o'clock mass and distributed following that mass and all subsequent masses.

Palms will be blessed and distributed before the 9:15 high mass at St. Patrick church. They will also be given out at each following mass.

At St. Margaret Mary church in Neenah palms will be blessed before the 8:30 high mass and distributed at that mass and the following masses.

Henry Kohfeldt and Patrolman Herbert Parker sell licenses to Jim Wruck and Roy McManus. The licenses cost 50 cents and are good for two years. A special schedule has been set up for each public school. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Menasha High Spring Concert Is April 13

Six Senior Band Members to Play Final Sections

Menasha — The Menasha High school annual spring band concert will be held in the high school auditorium on Sunday, April 13, Gerald Mattern, band director, announced today.

Six seniors who will be playing their last concert are David Rae and LeRoy Wilson, who play the French horn, Virginia Wajohn and Fred Kulick, drummers, and Carl Nebel and Howard Belonger, saxophonists.

Rae and Wilson will play a duet, "Rondina" by Fritz Kreisler, and Nebel will play a solo of his own transcribed arrangement of David Bennett's "Moderne." Nebel's arrangement is a project on the level of a college master's degree.

Other numbers which will be played are "Prelude and Fugue in G Minor" by J. S. Bach; "Sea Portrait" by Homer La Gassey, and the "Second Suite in F for Military Band" by Gustav Holst which includes "March Song Without Words," "Song of the Blacksmith" and "Fantasia on the Dargason." These numbers will also be played at the band festival in Appleton on April 19.

"A Mozart Festival" compiled and arranged by Clair Johnson, "Irish Tune from County Derry" by Percy Grainger, "Bear Dance" by Bela Bartok, and the "Kiddie Ballet" by Ralph Hermann will be played along with several march numbers.

Catholics to Commemorate Palm Sunday

Distribute Branches at Most Masses

Menasha — The four Twin City Catholic churches, along with Catholic congregations throughout the world, will mark the beginning of Holy Week with Palm Sunday services this Sunday.

Palm Sunday commemorates the entry of Jesus Christ into Jerusalem a week before His trial for blasphemy and subsequent crucifixion. On this day

Neenah Chapter First in State To Reach Goal

Neenah — The Neenah Red Cross chapter announced today that it has reached its 1958 goal of $13,815.

It is the first Wisconsin chapter to report 100 per cent collection.

The Neenah chapter also was the first state chapter to reach its quota last year.

The chairmen include Harold Mennes, schools; Miss Amanda Robinson and Mrs. C. F. Hedgcs, bank booths; Robert Wood, special gifts; Robert Ernest, industry; John Westgor, clubs and organizations; Merton Shaw, and Robert Sparks, business and professional.

Woman Complains of Hit-Run Auto Damage

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Mrs. John Vander Linden, 113 E. Wilson avenue, Appleton, complained to Sheriff Charles Lowry this morning of a hit and run accident in which her car was extensively damaged in front of the Barn tavern in the town of Menasha Wednesday night.

She said the accident must have occurred between 7:30 and 11 o'clock. The right front door was caved in and the right rear door was bent and torn.

A Soo Line Crew Friday Began trying to put a 50-foot boxcar loaded with pulp back on the tracks. The car had run off the end of the siding just east of N. Lake street Wednesday afternoon and became mired in the muddy shore of Little Lake Butte des Morts. Workers were jacking the car up before laying temporary ties and rails under it. Our Savior's Lenten Study Group Typical of Many in Twin Cities

Neenah — Representative of the small groups of men and women from Twin City churches who have been meeting regularly during lent to study the life of Christ and Christian principles of daily living is the one which gathered each Friday afternoon at Our Savior's Lutheran church.

Leader for one of the sessions was Mrs. Elmer Sievert who began the meeting with a hymn, "Jesus Calls to Us Over the Turmoil." The group then turned to chapters 6, 7 and 8 of St. Paul's letters to the Romans which are divided into law and gospel. In the ensuing discussion members decided that law refers to what we do for God and gospel is that which God does for us.

Participants then alternated reading the sixth chapter which included sanctification—growth in holiness and setting ourselves apart for our service to God.

refer the question "will the ignorant have to pay for their sins when they haven't known the law?" to the Rev. Paul Rasmussen, pastor of Our Savior's church.

In deciding how they could show their Christianity in everyday living, besides Sunday church attendance, the women mentioned areas in which they could improve. One admitted that often a beautiful hat in church distracts her from prayer, the real purpose of church services.

When Mrs. Sievert read the passage pertaining to the "Thorn in Paul's Body" it was mentioned that he prayed to have it removed, but it was not God's will. They concluded that he either removes afflictions or gives us the strength to live with them.

when it will have to be put to a test with impending threats of communism, nuclear weapons and space warfare.

At the end of their lenten studies the Friday afternoon and Monday evening groups heard the Rev. Mr. Rasmussen speak and conduct a question and answer session Monday evening.

Baptist Groups To Visit Synagogue

Neenah — The Junior High and Senior High Youth Fellowships of Whiting Memorial Baptist church will meet at 6 o'clock Sunday evening at the church and will tour the Moses Montefiore synagogue in Appleton.

Rabbi Gilbert Silverstein will conduct the tour and will explain Jewish rituals and symbols to the young people. After visiting the synagogue the fellowships will return to the church for a social hour.

The Pilgrim Fellowship of the First Congregational church will meet at 7 o'clock Sunday evening. Bruce Gallagher will lead the discussion on "A Claim and Some Challenges," part of a series on personal religion.

A film on "Christian Symbolism" will be shown at the meeting of the Senior Youth Fellowship of the First Methodist church at 6:30 Sunday evening. Miss Nancy Ellis is the adviser in charge of the program and devotions will be led by Diane Ganzer.

The Junior High Westminster Fellowship of the First Presbyterian church will meet at 6:30 Sunday evening at the church for a discussion of words used in worship services.

Director of Christian education, Miss Mary Baker, will lead services in the chapel.

The Intermediate Youth group of Calvary Baptist church will meet at 6:30 Sunday day. Doug Davis will lead devotions and songs will be led by Marjorie Erickson.

The Senior Youth group of Calvary Baptist church will meet at 6:30 Sunday evening and Keith King will lead songs. They will attend church services and have a "singspiration" afterward.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings they will meet following the church missionary meetings.

The Pioneer Westminster Fellowship will meet at 6:30 Sunday for a Camp Onaway night in the conference room of the First Presbyterian church. The Senior Fellowship will meet at the same time for a discussion on "The Day Life Ends."

Preliminary Plans for the Annual Teachers recognition dinner to be held April 30 at Roosevelt school in Neenah were made recently in a committee meeting of the Roosevelt Mothers club. Brownie Troop Has Election, Lists Project Menasha — Mary Flom has been elected president of Brownie Troop 222 of St. John school. Other officers are Janet Talarczyk, secretary, and Nancy Maciejewski, treasurer. The Brownies began work on corsages made of tinted eggshells. Plans were made to tour the Elm Tree bakery Thursday.

Mrs. Henry Gajewski and Mrs. Robert Bachhuber are the leaders.

Bunny tray favors for patients at the Sunset Haven Rest home were made at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of Brownie troop 39 of Tatt school. A mothers' tea, to be held in conjunction with a fly-up ceremony, has been planned for early May. The troop will not meet Tuesday.

Mrs. Alvin Thums and Mrs. Walter Jurgenson are the leaders.

Prayer Band To Hear Speaker

Neenah — When the Ladies Prayer band of Calvary Baptist church meets at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, it will hear Brinley Evans, a deputations speaker with the Sudan Interior Mission. He will also show slides of the mission's activities in Africa.

Members of women's groups from Oshkosh and Appleton have been invited to the event and hostesses will be Mrs. Roland Aggers, Mrs. Paul Weigt, Mrs. David Watson and Mrs. Ward Hillegas.

Mr. Evans, who is also a musician, will entertain with several violin solos.

Pauline Borsack Is Bride In Westfield Ceremony

Neenah — In an 11 o'clock ceremony this morning at her parents' Westfield home, Miss Pauline Borsack, 324 Fifth street, became the bride of Eugen H. Kleinau, 332 Fourth street.

The Rev. Donald Pardun officiated at the double ring rites for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Borsack and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hermann Kleinau, Cologne, Germany.

Matron of honor for her sisters was Mrs. Douglas O. Anderson, Jr., Park Forest, Ill., and Herbert Kraft, Appleton, served as best man.

A dinner for the wedding party was served at home after the ceremony and a reception from 1 to 3 o'clock will be held there this afternoon. A later afternoon reception is scheduled at the bride's Fifth street home.

The former Miss Borsack attended Westfield High school, Wisconsin State college in Milwaukee and is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. She is a teacher at McKinley school. Mr. Kleinau received his degree in pulp and paper technology from Oskar-Von-Miller Polytechnikum in Munich, Germany, and previous to his employment at the Bergstrom

YWCA Will Sponsor Vote, Shop Nursery

A nursery school teacher will be in charge, assisted by members of the Y-Teens.

Serve Spicy Tart Fruits With Meats

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau.

Oshkosh — A spicy tart fruit is particularly suitable to serve with meat when fruit is not used in the salad or dessert for a meal. Spiced prunes are good with ham or roast pork, advises Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent.

Wash one and one-half cups prunes, add two cups water and three-fourths cup vinegar. Add spices, one three-inch stick of cinnamon, one - half teaspoon whole cloves, one-half teaspoon whole allspice, tied loosely in white cloth. Cook slowly until the prunes are plump and tender. Add one-half cup of brown sugar and cook for 10 minutes longer. Serve hot or cold. Left over vinegar from sweet pickles, peaches, or pears may be used in place of vinegar, water and spices.

For fried apples, core six tart apples, but do not peel. Cut into rings about one-half inch thick or fairly thick slices. Put three tablespoons butter or bacon fat and one tablespoon water into a frying pan and add the apples. Sprinkle one-half teaspoon of salt on top.

Cover and cook slowly until the apples are almost tender, then sprinkle with three to four tablespoons sugar. Continue to cook slowly until the sugar is melted. Apples should be very lightly browned. Serve with pork sausages, roast pork or pork chops.

If the apples are cut into

No Activities At Brigade In Holy Week

Neenah — The Boy's Brigade will suspend regular activities next week during Holy week, but the building will be open to Brigade members for recreation. Jack Casper, Brigade coordinator, announced today.

The building will be open from 10 o'clock to noon and from 1 o'clock to 3:30 on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday. On Good Friday it will be open only in the morning.

The Brigade building is to be used Tuesday as the Tenth ward polling place and will be closed to the youngsters on that day. It will also be closed Saturday while a stage for the April 14 parents night program is being constructed.

FULL TIME MAYOR

CITY OF NEENAH

- Qualified by 30 years' business experience along with a construction and engineering background.
- President Neenah Motors past 12 years.
- Also Wisconsin licensed real estate broker.

Competent—Trustworthy—Straightforward

★ WILKE has a construction and engineering background which is a valuable asset for the City of Neenah with all the street, sewer, water main, curb and gutter and building construction and maintenance which lies ahead and takes up a good share of the tax dollar, remember engineering and construction mistakes are costly.

★ WILKE circulated his own nomination papers and if elected Mayor won't be obligated to any downtown pressure group, who proposes to spend some of the tax dollar which could be better used toward adequate schools, parks, recreation and library facilities.

★ WILKE will coordinate his services with the school board and all other boards and commissions and citizen's committees for the good of all the people.

★ WILKE knows methods and procedure to guard the tax dollar, and has the know how to get things done.

★ WILKE is against the proposed expressway from the Twin Cities to Kaukauna because it would just make it easier for outside workers to scoot in here and take jobs away from local workers. The peoples voice in city government is through their aldermen and WILKIE will keep in touch with them to see that they are properly represented.

★ WILKE won't sell you down the river, he will check into things and keep the people informed so that the cart doesn't get put ahead of the horse.

★ ELECTING WILKE will put competent, efficient management into the mayor's office and if necessary he will take steps to make a realignment of personnel in order to insure efficiency in all departments to stop waste and leaks.

★ WILKE will appreciate your vote on April 1st

TO THE CITIZENS OF NEENAH:

I have been criticized for venturing to condemn the spending of $1886 by the city for the Hallow'een party at the high school last fall.

I expressly stated the IDEA of the party was GOOD but the COST EXCESSIVE. A dance, with refreshments and donated prizes, would serve as well, at a cost of $500 or less, and please the students.

I did NOT criticize the individual officers who, with their wives, gave generously of their time. I believe, and have stated publicly, we have an excellent police force.

MY CRITICISM WAS AIMED AT AN ADMINISTRATION WHICH WOULD PERMIT SUCH AN EXPENDITURE WHEN NEENAH HAS SO MANY NEEDS!

IN MY OPINION, THIS IS LOOSE HANDLING OF PUBLIC FUNDS!

Presentation Of Facts Relative To The Police Station Bond Issue

On April 1, 1958 the spring election will be held in the City of Neenah. In addition to electing candidates for the various offices, voters will be asked to decide on an additional matter, namely, the matter of issuing general obligation bonds to provide funds for the construction of new police buildings.

Why will you, the voters of the City of Neenah, be asked to vote on this question?

The present City of Neenah police station was built in 1888 when there were three men on the police force. At present there are twenty-six men on the force. Four and one-half years ago the Wisconsin State Division of Corrections condemned the police station for the housing of prisoners. Convinced of the need for a new station, the council decided to construct one and engaged an architectural firm to make a survey of administrative needs and prepare plans. After much time and study the council approved of plans and invested $60,000.00 in land to provide a site for the new station. The estimated cost of constructing the station and providing necessary equipment is $270,000.00, which the council concluded would provide modern and adequate facilities for our police department. The council was then confronted with the problem of how to finance the station. It had a choice of one of three methods. One method was to raise the money by increasing taxes $270,000.00 in one year. Another method was by borrowing the money through short term notes. The third method was to issue general obligation bonds, which is the method used by the city in borrowing money for practically all purposes. The council decided to borrow the money by issuing general obligation bonds, the third method. This is the reason that you will vote on this question on Tuesday, April 1st.

Hewitt's Net Tourney Win

Machinemen Best Lou's Bootery 78-67 in Green Bay 'Y' Tourney; Play Fort Atkinson in Semi-Finals

Green Bay — Hewitt Machinemen advanced to the semi-finals of the twenty-third annual Green Bay YMCA basketball tournament by defeating Lou's Bootery of Green Bay 78-67 here Friday night.

The Machinemen are scheduled to meet the Fort Atkinson Blackhawks at 2:30 this afternoon. The finals and third place game will be played tonight.

In other games Friday night, Fort Atkinson bested Zaverchinsk's of Milwaukee 79-69, Pulaski beat Green Bay Reliance 77-75 in an overtime and Safeway Steel of Milwaukee won over Farah's Foods of Green Bay 75-70. Safeway and Pulaski collide in this afternoon's second semi-final game.

Hewitt's led their Green Bay opponent 12-11 at the end of a quarter and then moved to a 35-24 halftime lead as a result of a 23-13 advantage in the second quarter. The score was 54-45 at the end of three frames.

Scoring honors for Hewitt's went to Tom Malchow and Pat Casperson with 18 points apiece. By Prentice had 16 for the losers.

Both teams made 30 field goals but Hewitt's had an 18-7 margin on the free throw line.

Scoring honors for Pulaski in its win over Reliance went to Les Schroeder with 21 points. Jerry Hopfensperger collected 18, Dick Verbeten scored 17 and Jerry Lamers had 10.

The box score:

Magicians Help Macs Conclude 1957-58 Cage Slate in Twin Cities

Menashans Meet New Holstein in Preliminary Game; Graders to Perform Between Halves

Menasha — The Twin City basketball menu began with a game between the Macs and New Holstein here last November and it will close with the same match tonight plus a dessert featuring the talented Harlem Magicians.

The Macs and New Holstein will collide in the preliminary game at 8:45 this evening at the Menasha High school gym while the touring Magicians, featuring Marques Haynes all-time Harlem Globetrotter great, will face the Boston Shamrocks in the windup at 8 o'clock.

"Pee-Wep" Game Between halves of the finale, a 10-minute exhibition between the fourth and fifth graders of St. Margaret Mary and St. Patrick is planned. Vern Woller, man coaches the Neenah team and Fritz Block is the Shamrock coach.

Haynes, known for his ball-handling wizardry for many years, is ably assisted by Josh Grider, Sam Wheeler, Paul Martin, who last year scored 390 points in 13 games against the college all-stars, Frank Washington and Allen Davis. On their 287 game tour of the United States, Mexico and Canada last year, the Magicians played to over one million fans and also appeared on a nationally-known television program.

The Shamrock roster includes boys who know their way around the court too, including Vern Westlake of Southwestern Texas college, John McAvery, three-year letterman at Iowa State; Jesse Coffee of San Diego state and Bob Deppolo of Williams college, among others.

2,000 Attend The Macs defeated New Holstein in their initial meeting but the latter came back to whip the Menashans twice in Eastern Wisconsin Amateur league play. The first loss came in the contest which preceded the Harlem Globetrotter game on Dec. 29 and it knocked the Twin Cities out of a clear first round league title. That initial professional show drew a capacity audience of some 2,000 spectators.

The Above Five Athletes Were Chosen to the Mid-Eastern conference's all-league team by the loop coaches at a meeting in Menasha last Monday. Left to right are John Cantwell and Marty Gharritty, Shawano; Jack Lamers, Kimberly, and Fred Seggelink, Neenah. Ron Brault of Two Rivers is shown in the picture beneath Lamers. All are seniors except Lamers, who is a junior. Seggelink and the two Shawano cagers were unanimous selections. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Bluejay, Zephyr Seniors to Clash With St. John '5'

Menasha — Seniors on this season's Menasha and St. Mary's High school basketball teams will combine forces Sunday afternoon to meet St. John Holy Name at the St. John gym. Game time will be 2:15.

Senior players include Gordy Selbach, Don Nelson, Jim Hanson, Jerry Koslowski and Larry Wright from the Bluejays and Pat Below, Jim Schuppert, Bill McGinnis and Dave Miller of St. Mary. Leo "Sam" Kraus will coach the students and Floyd "enke" will handle the St. John team.

Youth Group to Rotate Meetings

Neenah — The youth division of the Neenah-Menasha Community Council will begin rotating its meeting place Monday noon when it meets at the Boys' Brigade building. Other meetings are planned for the YWCA, libraries and other places which the members represent. Previously all meetings were held at the Menasha Elks club.

12th Sportsmen's Show Planned by Lions Club

Program Slated April 19 at NHS; List Committees

Neenah — The Twin City Lions clubs' twelfth annual Sportsmen's show, sponsored this year by the Neenah Lions club, will be held Saturday evening, April 19, at the Neenah High school gymnasium. Plans have been completed and tickets are on sale at Neenah and Menasha sporting goods stores and other stores displaying the sport show window card, according to E. E. Kadlec, general chairman.

A list of over 60 awards, including a major award of a boat and motor, and a program of vaudeville acts and musical entertainment is planned.

Proceeds will be used in the Lions humanitarian work and to finance the various community projects.

Projects Named For the last 20 years, Neenah Lions have purchased glasses and provided other eye care for needy children. They purchased equipment for the blood bank at Theda Clark hospital, furnished four rooms in the new hospital addition and purchased the first islette infant incubator for Theda Clark nursery.

Other activities include sponsoring students at Badger Boys.

Rush Goes Route as Braves Maul Chisox

Bob Allows 5 Hits in 11-2 Victory

Tampa, Fla. — Fine pitching by Bob Rush, a great catch by Wes Covington and five extra base hits, including a homer by Joe Adcock, spelled an 11-2 victory for the Milwaukee Braves over the Chicago White Sox Friday.

Rush allowed only five hits as he became the first Milwaukee hurler to go the distance. He walked four and fanned four along the way. Meanwhile the Braves collected 13 hits in routing Early Wynn and his successor, Bill Fischer of Schofield, Wis.

Wynn stayed about even with Rush for five innings but the Braves got to him for four runs in the sixth, his last. In the same inning as Rush appeared to weaken, the Sox got two men on base before Covington dashed to the left field fence and made a dazzling catch that kept Chisox under control.

Milwaukee Ties It

A walk, a single and sacrifice fly sent Louis Aparicio over with the game's first run in the opening inning. Milwaukee tied it in the third on a single, an error and a sacrifice fly by Al Spangler. The Sox went ahead in the third as Earl Battey doubled and after an infield out scored on a sacrifice fly by Aparicio.

Spangler started Milwaukee rolling in the sixth with a single and following a walk to Mathews and an out he scored on a single by Covington. Then Adcock stretched the count to 3-2 before knocking his third homer over the right field fence to put the Braves in front 5-2.

Two Milwaukee runners tagged home in the seventh as Ed Mathews banged a single. Hank Aaron collected one of his two doubles, and Frank Torre singled.

Fischer came back for more in the eighth and started his own trouble by walking Carl Sawatski. After Rush sacrificed, "Casey" Wise singled and Spangler did the same to send the Sawatski home. Aaron's second double scored Wise and Spangler. Hank was out trying to stretch his hit to a triple.

Fischer stayed around for the ninth and saw the final Milwaukee run go home as Earl Hersh led off with a double and scored on Sawatski's single.

The Braves were back in Bradenton today where they entertained the St. Louis Cardinals. It was Warren Spahn's turn to try for nine innings.

Lew Burdette will make his second start of the spring drills Sunday against the Cincinnati Redlegs at Bradenton.

Pirates Jar Roberts For 5 Home Runs

Boston's Baumann Looks Good In 5-Inning Stint Against Cincy

By The Associated Press

Four big league pitchers, plagued by a variety of ailments ranging from a sore arm to second divisionitis, were over another mound test today and only one — Robin Roberts — had any misgivings.

In addition to Roberts, the other hurlers were Frank Baumann of Boston, Bob Rush of Milwaukee and Jack Harshman of Baltimore.

Roberts, who has been the favorite target of National League batsmen since he came up to the majors 10 years ago, continued to have the gopher ball blues Friday.

The 4-time 20 game winner, a 22-game loser in 1957, was patted for five homers — four in one inning — by the Pittsburgh Pirates. Robin established the existing big league mark by permitting 46 home runs in 1956.

Kluszewski, Hits Pair

Ted Kluszewski walloped two of Pittsburgh's homers while Benny Daniels, Johnny Powers and Danny Kravitz got the others for the Pirates who won 8-7.

Baumann, a fast-balling left-hander who has been bothered by a sore wing the past few seasons, turned in his best showing of the exhibition season as the Red Sox downed Cincinnati, 8-5. The former bonus baby yielded only two runs and three hits in a 5-inning stint.

Rush, who toiled for the lowly Chicago Cubs for 10 years before being rescued by the Braves the past winter, showed his appreciation in Milwaukee's 11-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Rush went the distance and yielded only five hits.

Harshman, troubled by a back ailment while with the White Sox in 1957, was the winning pitcher as Baltimore whipped the Chicago Cubs, 14-7. He pitched five innings and yielded five runs. But the former first baseman hit the

The staff includes two returning Three-I arbiters and four new men, who advance from circuits of lower classification.

The veterans are Ralph Bernardini, 28, Hamden, Conn., and Gerald J. Carlton, 29, Galesburg, Ill.

Crawford Wins, Clamors for Title Chance

Low Blows Cost Gil Turner at Least a Draw

By MURRAY ROSE

New York — It was a typical fight aftermath. The winner, young Mickey Crawford, hollered for a chance at the title. The loser, veteran Gil Turner, gave out the usual "we wuz robbed" beef. And no sub-poenas were handed out.

Crawford, 24, fast-rising prospect from Saginaw, Mich., proved he belonged with the welterweight elite, by nosing out Turner, 27, fourth-ranked contender from Philadelphia, in the television 10-rounder at Madison Square garden Friday night.

An Extra Point

If there was anyone to blame, Turner should have singled himself out for the rap. His low blows cost him the fight. He would have received a draw except for the fouls. Referee Al Berl warned him for low lefts in the first two rounds. When Gil strayed below the border again in the third, Berl took the round from him.

The officials' votes, all with Crawford ahead, went like this: Judge Sam Irom, 6-4, Referee Berl, 5-4-1, and Judge Artie Aidala, 5-5 in rounds and 6-5 for Crawford in points. Aidala had Crawford ahead in the third

14 Unbeaten Seasons UW's Johnny Walsh Ends Brilliant Coaching Career in NCAA Meet

By ROGER BLOBAUM

Madison — Coach Johnny Walsh, the leading figure in college boxing for more than 20 years, ends his brilliant career tonight in Davis, Calif.

Since 1933, as boxing coach at the University of Wisconsin, he has made Badger teams the nation's foremost practitioners of collegiate boxing. This year's team, one of the few with more losses than wins, is competing in the NCAA boxing tournament in Davis. The Western trip ends Walsh's coaching career.

His teams during the years piled up eight NCAA team titles and 35 individual crowns, and went through 14 seasons undefeated. Although Wisconsin is one of only two schools east of the Mississippi competing in collegiate boxing, most of the Badger records were posted when more than 20 schools were competing.

When Walsh submitted his resignation several weeks ago, he said pressures of his law practice made it impossible for him to continue part-time coaching. He is quitting coaching because of the same career which brought him to the university as a law student and coach at the age of 21. The slightly balding coach is 45 now and a member of a law firm.

Boxing was made a major sport three years after he took over. Up to 15,000 fans crowded into the university field house at the height of the Badger successes. It wasn't until 1950 — after 72 nights of boxing — that Walsh's teams lost a home match.

Gained 98 Victories

Speed, good conditioning, alert thinking and clean boxing were always stressed in the Walsh training camp.

He frequently would say: Keep your hands up, your chin down and throw short, straight punches... and don't forget to throw that left hook.

Although Walsh coached many a boy to collegiate ring

Potentially Bright AHS Track Outlook Clouded by Injuries

Three of Terrors' Top Five Point-Men of 1957 are Back

By JOHN L. PAUSTIAN

Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Only a failure of several key injuries to clear up seemingly can keep the Appleton High school track team from a successful 1958 season.

However, it will require big contributions from untested sophomores and juniors plus injury-free fortune for the Terrors to duplicate their shiny 1957 record.

A Bright Chapter

In 1957, one of the brightest chapters in AHS track history, the team won every meet it entered, except the state test. And, in that one, the Terrors finished second in the tough class A competition.

The Terrors will provide an important preview of their 1958 outlook Saturday, April 5, when they defend their Madison West High school relay title. The crown, the Terrors' first in the history of the meet, launched the great '57 campaign under the first-year guidance of Ray Kinziger.

Other meets won last year by the Terrors were the Fox River Valley conference test (which rounded out the second triple crown in AHS and league history), the Green Bay Sectional, the FRVC relay carnival and all four of their dual tests.

Two Question Marks

Kinziger has three of his top five 1957 point-men back, but two of these — co-captains John Cotton and Dick Kickland — remain question marks. At least until they undergo their first competitive tests.

Cotton, who scored 50 points last year as a standout half-miler and relayman, strained a ligament in his left leg some six weeks ago during basketball practice. The injury has responded fairly well, but Cotton has been careful not to hurry his conditioning routine.

Kickland, another important sprinter and relayman who scored the third high total of 46 and 1 last year, has been wearing a brace to protect a knee injury that kept him out of most of the '57 football campaign. The hope in the AHS camp is that Kickland will be able to attain good track form.

Sprinter Dick Kloes and half-miler Bill Simpson are other lettermen who have been hampered by injuries in the early weeks of training.

The other top returnee among the point-scorers is Howie Hamann, who was fifth high in production last year. Hamann placed second in the conference high hurdles and fifth in the shot put.

Hard to Replace

Three-lettermen Mike Uwell and Jim Schulze are among the most serious losses from the '57 team. Uwell, a hurdler and relayman, took high point honors with 544. Schulze, a dashman and pole vaulter, was fourth high.

Among others extremely difficult to replace are Mike Wenzel, who distinguished himself on both the sprint medley and 880-yard relay teams; and quarter-miler John Yonan and half-miler Dave Verkullen, both of whom were key factors in AHS' sprint medley success.

Other 1957 lettermen lost via graduation are "Chuck" Knisp, John Dittmer, Jack Rademacher, John Hoffman, Harvey Thibert, Bob Boettcher, Bob Jooss, Jerry Langdok, Dick Simpson, Bob Peterson, Jim Wink, Dick Schaeffer and Joe Stringham.

The only individual conference champion in addition to Cotton among AHS' 14 lettermen is Don Loker. During his

Higgins Terms 1958 Red Sox Best Boston Club in Four Years

Infield Is Question Mark, but Team Has Solid Punch, Pitching Potential

BY JACK HAND

Sarasota, Fla. — With 39-year-old Ted Williams hitting .388, the best the Boston Red Sox could manage last year was a third place finish, 16 games behind the New York Yankees. Why should you expect any more this season?

The Red Sox again have a solid punch and pitching potential. Once more the infield is a question mark, depending on improvement by the kids.

A handyman like Pete Runnels has been added and shortstop Don Buddin is back from the Army a few months ahead of time. Otherwise it is pretty much the same ball club that never was a pennant factor after the first month of the 1957 season.

Best in 4 Years

Like all American league managers in springtime, Mike "Pinky" Higgins is optimistic. He even says this is the best Red Sox club he has had in his four years as manager.

"Sure, the Yanks can be had," said Higgins. "No, I didn't get the idea from the World Series. Milwaukee didn't prove anything we didn't know already. With Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron injured they still went seven games. If the Braves had Eddie Mathews and Hank Aaron out it would have been different.

"I think we are going to be better. We are going to have a tighter infield and our pitching has to improve. It didn't live up to its potential last year. If we can come up with a left-hander, we will be plenty tough."

"Chicago has a good pitching department and Detroit can be right in there if Frank Lary and Billy Hoeltz come back strong. Cleveland has a lot of 'ifs,' like Herb Score and Bob Lemon."

Williams, of course, is the big man.

Although he will be 40 in August, Williams tells friends he expects to play 125 games, sitting out the second games of double-headers. He would like nothing better than a sixth batting title and a career total of 500 home runs. At present he is fifth on the all-time list with 456, only 38 behind Lou Gehrig.

Outfield Strong

The strongest part of the Boston club is its outfield with Williams in left, the fleet Jimmy Piersall in center and thumping Jackie Jensen in right.

The surprise of the camp has been the second base play of Billy Consolo (.270) who seems to have elbowed rookie Ken Aspromonte, the Pacific Coast league batting champ at San Francisco with a .334 mark, out of the second base scrap.

Frank Malzone, a standout in his first full year with a .292 average and 103 runs batted in, is the solid man of the infield at third base. Dick Gernert (.237) has the inside track at first.

Sammy White's hitting dropped to .215 last season, giving rookie Haywood Sullivan a shot at the No. 1 job after a .293 year at San Francisco.

Higgins has five starting pitchers, all right-handed. They are Tom Brewer (16-13), Frank Sullivan (14-11), Willard Nixon (12-13), Dave Sisler (7-8) and Mike Fornieles (10-13) at Baltimore and Boston.

Ike Delock (9-8) and George Sussac (7-3) form the right-handed crops in the bullpen. Higdon hopes Leo Kiely, back for another whirl after a terrific 21-6 year at San Francisco, will give him lefthanded help.

The best bet for a southpaw starter is Frank Baumann, the $100,000 plus bonus boy of 1952. Baumann has a history of arm trouble but managed a 10-7 record at Oklahoma City last summer and beat the Yankees in the last game of the season.

DeMerit Sent To Jacksonville For Assignment

Bradenton, Fla. — John DeMerit, outfielder whom the Milwaukee Braves signed off the University of Wisconsin campus last year for an estimated $100,000 bonus, Friday was sent to Jacksonville for further assignment.

The 22-year-old rookie appeared in only 33 games last year, mostly as a pinch runner. He batted .147.

DeMerit was not assigned to a Braves' farm club immediately, pending a study of the needs of the various teams. The world champions now have 34 players in camp.

Bartlesville Suffers Humiliating 90-53 Loss in AAU Meet

Denver — Peoria and Denver, a couple of also-rans in the National Industrial Basketball league, collide head-on tonight for the National AAU championship.

Peoria gained the championship showdown by humiliating Bartlesville, Okla., 90-53, in Friday night's semi-finals. Denver whipped Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., 76-64.

For Bartlesville, the sound thrashing ended for the present its hopes of marking up a tenth AAU title.

Peoria's big guns were Jim Palmer, a former Dayton university star, and Howie Crittenden, former Murray State ace.

Crittenden baffled Bartlesville with his fancy exhibition of dribbling and deadly passing and shooting. He and Palmer each chipped in with 19 points.

Peoria was ahead, 35-30, at halftime. Firing from long range, the Illinois sharpshooters cut loose with a blistering barrage of baskets that put them ahead, 49-32, with five minutes gone in the second half.

Gary Thompson, former Iowa State star, took scoring honors for Bartlesville with 18 points.

For awhile, Ft. Leonard Wood seemed to be making a carbon copy of its earlier victories over San Francisco and Wichita in its struggle against Denver. In its triumphs Wednesday and Thursday nights, the soldiers surged from behind in the dying moments.

Trailing Denver by 14 points at one point, the Missouri servicemen whittled away until they were behind at halftime by only 36-31. Twice shortly after the intermission, the soldiers cut Denver's margin to three points before Harvey Schmidt went on a scoring spree that made the score 49-39.

K. C. Jones, the former San Francisco university flash, was the game's top scorer with 20 points for the soldiers. Schmidt and soldier Paul Judson each had 19.

Things Look Brighter For Cubs This Season

BY BOB MYERS

Mesa, Ariz. — If the Chicago Cubs can pick up in April where they left off last September, things may be brighter for the 1957 cellar-dweller of the National league. So believes Bob Scheffing, starting his second year as field boss of the Bruins.

"We were a far better team in the second half of the season than we were given credit for and in the last two months we played better than 500 ball," said Scheffing.

And, he added, he feels his men will resume this brand of play when the season kicks off in mid-April.

On the happy side, the Cubs have an outstanding ball player in shortstop Ernie Banks, and at least two excellent young pitchers in Moe Drabowsky and Dick Drott.

He can expect good punch from such veterans as Dale Long, Lee Walls and Walt Moryn, as well as Banks, who walloped 43 home runs last year.

There are several rookies whose fate must yet be decided, but Scheffing, owner P. K. Wrigley and the vice president triumvirate of John Holland, Charley Grimm and Clarence Rowland are optimistic over some prospects.

Included would be an infielder, John Goryl, 24, who batted .301 with Memphis last year, and Glen Hobbie, 198-pound, 6-3 youngster who won 15 at Memphis. The Cubs thought highly of Hobbie — $50,000 worth of admiration, to be exact.

Scheffing still seeks a starting infield combination. Set are Dale Long at first and Banks at shortstop. Tony Taylor, rookie drafted from Dallas, and Jerry Kindall have been working at second and Goryl at third.

Bobby Adams and Bob Morgan are good reserve infielders and with Goryl knocking at the door, Scheffing can do a bit of juggling before he finds the best combination.

Speake Available

Moryn (.289), Walls (.237) and Chuck Tanner, formerly with the Milwaukee Braves, form the outfield nucleus, with Bob Speake available in the outer garden or to spell Long at first.

Scheffing's pitching staff includes such veterans as former Brave Taylor Phillips, Jim Brosnan, Dick Littlefield and two able relievers, Turk Lown and Don Elston.

Cal Neeman did a good job as the No. 1 catcher last year, backed up by Elvin Tappe and Sam Taylor.

Drabowsky, 22, soon to be discharged from the service, won 15 games in his second year, with the Cubs last year. And Drott, 21, was a sensation as a freshman with a 15-11 record.

Drott struck out 170 batters and scored three shutouts, giving up only 11 hits in the three games. His biggest day was when he fanned 15 Milwaukee Braves.

"I definitely feel we move up this year," concluded Scheffing.

Life Becomes Tougher For Young Braves

Rush's Showing Puts Willey in Jeopardy Of Being Optioned

Tampa, Fla. — The 1958 National league baseball season has not yet opened and already the Milwaukee Braves have established one thing: It's nice to do business with the Chicago Cubs.

Cries of robbery were raised last December when the Braves turned the 5-player deal with the Cubs that netted the world champions righthanded hurler Bob Rush. He gave notice Friday that he plans to make fact of the warnings shouted by the alarmists.

He became the first of the Braves' mound crew to go the full nine innings, allowing only five hits as Milwaukee romped over the Chicago White Sox, 11-2. With the performance Rush just about assured himself of the fourth spot in the Milwaukee pitching rotation. But he said it wasn't easy.

"I got tired," he explained after he had finished the stint by retiring in order the last 10 Sox batters.

"I'm not real strong yet," Rush said. "Around the seventh inning Manager Fred Haney asked me if I wanted to continue. I wanted to finish the job so he let me stay on."

Despite walking only four batters Rush said, "my control was off more than usual."

The 10-year veteran with the Cubs, Rush has allowed only four runs in 19 innings of Grapefruit league play.

The performance by Rush can only make life more troubled for the young Milwaukee hurlers, such as Carlton Willey who may be returned to the minors even though he has been picked as most likely to be the league rookie of the year.

"I'm happy to hear they think I might be the rookie of the year," he said Friday, "but I'd rather hear I was going to stick with the team."

Except for a couple of bad innings this spring the 6-foot, 175-pound righthander has been impressive enough to back up the 21-6 record he posted last year at Wichita to become the most valuable player in the Triple A American association.

But merit is not the only consideration.

For one thing three other Milwaukee youngsters — Joey Jay, Phil Paine and Humberto Robinson — have been optioned the limit of three times. Another trip down would run the risk of losing player in the Rocky Mountain area.

Rand, from Green Bay, Wis., played draft.

The Braves can ask waivers formerly starred for Marquette on Don Kaiser, who came to university.

They'll Do It Every Time.

and awarded him an extra point for the foul. From would have given the round to Turner except for the foul and his card would have been a draw.

Turner, pressing forward all the way and using his weight advantage—154½ to 149—to bull Mickey to the ropes, led through the first six rounds. He shook his tall, slender rival with a right to the jaw in the sixth.

But from the seventh on, Crawford a much sharper puncher than his mauling, swarming foe, took charge with his fast combinations. He nailed his stocky, charging rival with punches in clusters that didn't hurt much but piled up points.

Although Crawford has been fighting pro only 2½ years he was a 2-1 choice over the veteran. He has won three straight this year for a 21-2 record. Turner, a pro nearly eight years, now has a 55-17-1 record.

"We're going to wait for Virgil Akins and Vince Martinez to fight it out for the welterweight title and then we're going to challenge the winner," said Crawford's manager, Art Greenwald. "After all why not? Turner beat Akins and Turner is the No. 4 guy. Ike Logart was the No. 1 man but he was knocked out of the tournament by Akins. So that puts Mickey right in there."

"I don't know what's the matter with those officials," roared George Katz, Turner's manager, who rates as a top contender in the roaring league. "That Crawford didn't win a round going into the eighth."

The conference track meet will be held May 16 in Minaluna stadium, League President George Edelbeck has announced. A 6-game baseball schedule will be played this spring by eight schools, with home-and-home contests set in two 4-school divisions.

The league has adopted a 7-game football card and a 14-game basketball program for next season. Seymour's Ray Gulbrand, chairman of the scheduling committee, has revealed that the grid program will remain the same. Thus, each school drops two league opponents every two years on a rotation basis.

The basketball schedule has been revised so that next season each school will play home-and-home with five foes and will play four other league clubs in one game. The rotation set-up was formerly in effect in basketball with each school dropping two opponents completely for two years.

The league has decided to abandon selecting an all-conference team. The possibility of dropping the all-league voting had been discussed frequently in other years by conference members.

Coaches Place Larry Mory on All-NEW Club

7 of 13 Players Picked are Unanimous Choices

Seymour's Larry Mory has been named to the coaches' all-Northeastern Wisconsin conference basketball team.

Thirteen NEW cagers were named to the 1957-8 honor team, three more than on the loop's usual all-star squad.

Seven players were elected unanimously. They are West DePer's Bill Beecher; Jim Gnewuch, DePer; Dennis Hafeman, Algoma; Dan McDowell, Oconto; Ron Vandenberg, Preble; Dick Feuerstein and Jim Lemkuhl, Sturgeon Bay.

Others selected were Algonoma's Dick Mehlin, De Per's Dave Kussow, Preble's Ron Vander Kelen and Kewaunee's Dave Olszewski and Craig Robillard.

Maurice Stokes Only Semi-Conscious but Makes Slow Progress

Cincinnati — Maurice Stokes is still only semi-conscious, but the big pro basketball star for Cincinnati's Royals has made much progress in his 2-week fight against encephalitis.

Dr. C. R. Hunter said Friday night that "improvement has been very meager from day to day, but compared with 10 days ago, it has been considerable."

"Stokes now can follow people in the room with his eyes and obeys simple commands. We know he's capable of thinking again and he realizes that he is ill."

The doctor said Stokes' recovery from the brain inflammation will probably be very slow — "a number of weeks" at least.

Stokes was stricken on a flight to Cincinnati from Detroit.

New York Madison Square Garden — Mickey Crawford, 149, Saginaw, Mich., outpointed 149, Turner, 154½, Philadelphia, 112.

Buckeyes Open Slim Lead in Swim Meet

Michigan Second; Dick Hanley Bows In Close 220 Race

Ann Arbor, Mich.—(AP)—Ohio State was clinging to a 1-point margin today in a National Collegiate Athletic association swimming meet that has been notable for its surprises.

The top surprise was the Buckeyes' grip on first place over defending champion and favorite Michigan. Ohio State, which won 10 previous team titles, had scored 43 points to Michigan's 42 entering today's last six events.

Then, too, it was surprising the Wolverines have yet to unleash their vaunted strength. They expected to take a commanding lead in Friday night's eight events.

Loses Crucial Points But with the failure of Dick Hanley to win the 220-yard free style and Tony Tashnick to qualify for the 200-yard individual medley, Michigan lost crucial points.

Yale likewise was a bit off schedule in third with 30 points. The Elis' Tim Jecko had been

Badgers' Westphal Nipped in Finals

Ann Arbor, Mich.—(AP)—Wisconsin's top swimmer Fred Westphal took a first in the preliminary 50-yard freestyle event of the National Collegiate Athletic association swimming tournament Friday, but was defeated in the finals.

Westphal was clocked at 22.4 seconds, 3 of a second off the meet record in the first race. He and Gary Morris of Iowa posted the same time in the final heat, but the trophy went to Morris.

On the basis of Westphal's performance Wisconsin picked up five team points.

counted on for a first in the medley after the favorite Tashnick didn't qualify. Instead Joe Hunsaker of Illinois took the event in 2:08.6. Defending champion Jecko finished third.

Tashnick swam the speediest 200-yard butterfly ever turned in by a collegian in winning the event in 2:04.2. It shattered Jecko's American collegiate mark of 2:08.6 and his NCAA meet record of 2:09.5. Jecko placed second.

Michigan suffered a disappointment when star freestyler Hanley was nipped at the tape in 220 by Yale's Roger Anderson.

Frank Modine of Michigan State took the 100-yard breast stroke in 1:05.2.

Gary Morris of Iowa won the 50-yard free style in :22.4. Don Harper of Ohio State won the 3-meter diving. It was his second gold medal of the meet. Dave Pemberton of Northwestern won the 200-yard backstroke in 2:08.0.

Perini Believes New York Will Regain NL '9'

Jacksonville, Fla.—(AP)—Lou Perini, head of the Milwaukee Braves baseball club, believes New York will have a National league team again in the near future.

And he feels that the National league club and the American league's New York Yankees will both play in one modern park with ample parking facilities.

The Braves head man expressed the opinions in an interview while here to attend a scholarship dinner for Brandeis university.

Perini said he believed a new park would be built at New York and that the Yankees would alternate with a National club on playing dates.

"The setup will be the first 10-team big league and later 12-team loop divided into divisions similar to the National Football league arrangement," he said.

Al Pilarcik's Hitting Pleases Paul Richards

Scottsdale, Ariz.—(AP)—The 6-11 record of the Baltimore Orioles in spring exhibition games has furrowed the brow of Manager Paul Richards, but he can smile about the performance of Al Pilarcik.

The rightfielder has been hitting the ball at a healthy .490 clip. Pilarcik batted .278 in regular season play last year.

California Sets Record In Sprint Medley

Austin, Tex.—(AP)—California ran the sprint medley at the Texas Relays Friday in collegiate record time of 3:19.8 with Don Bowden racing a 1:40.1 half mile.

Milwaukee's Brue Advances to Semis Of Hollywood Tourney

Hollywood, Fla.—(AP)—Bob Brue of Milwaukee and Lee Raymond of Toledo, Ohio Friday defeated Pete Arends and Ben Nabers to advance to today's semi-final round of the Hollywood 4-Ball Golf tournament.

Playing over the Orange Brook Country Club course Brue and Raymond, both students at the University of Miami, took a 1-up victory over Arends of Allenhurst, N. J., and Nabers of St. Petersburg, Fla.

They were matched in today's semi-final round against Joe Bassett of Hollywood and Dick Foutche of Charleston, W. Va., who defeated favorites Jack Penrose of Miami Beach and Ted Bishop of Boston, Mass., 3 and 2 Friday.

North 'Stars' Beat South; Don Ohl MVP

Raleigh, N. C.—(AP)—There were thrills aplenty, but not much of a crowd for the first annual North-South All-Star basketball game that saw the North win, 111-109, in overtime on a last-second tip-in shot.

The crowd was only 1,000. The North tied the regulation game at 99-all on a jump shot by Don Ohl of Illinois with three seconds remaining. Ohl missed a 1-hander with the clock running out in the overtime. Jack Parr of Kansas State then tapped it in to win.

Ohl was high scorer with 27 points. He was voted as the game's most valuable player. Tommy Kearns of North Carolina and Joe Hobbs of Florida led the South with 18 points each.

Little League Officials Hope for 4 Foreign Entries in Tournament

Chicago—(AP)—Little league baseball officials Friday outlined plans for an 8-team tournament involving four foreign entries.

League officials hope this year's series will include representatives from Canada, Latin America, Europe and the Pacific in addition to four United States regional champions.

St. Norbert Announces 8-Game Grid Slate

West De Pere—(AP)—St. Norbert College, which has won its last 12 football games, announced an 8-game schedule for 1958 today.

Northern Michigan is the only new opponent. It replaces Carroll college.

Coach Mel Nickles hopes to fill the Knights' one open date, Oct. 18.

The schedule: Sept. 13, Eau Claire State; 20, at La Crosse State; 27, at Michigan Tech; Oct. 4, Loras; 11, at St. Ambrose; 18, open; 25, at Northern Michigan; Nov. 1, Mankato State; 8, Whitewater State.

SSAC Auxiliary Holds 2-Game Kegling Lead

The SSAC Auxiliary (44-31) won two games to maintain its 2-game lead in the South Side Women's league at the ACA alleys earlier in the week. There were no honor scores.

Splits were cleaned by:

SOUTH SIDE: Muriel Zickler 2-3-4; Carol Neumann 5-7; Elton Zickler 4-7-10; Shirley Gress 5-10; Lois Schmidt 4-10; Arlene Cowan 3-10; Greta Krester 5-7; Arlene Sivert 5-7; Dorothy Christian 5-10.

Chilton Churches to Hold Palm Sunday Services

Episcopal Church Plans Supper; Music
Program Planned by Presbyterian Parish

Chilton — Special services in observance of Palm Sunday have been planned for all six Chilton churches.

Members of St. Boniface Episcopal congregation will hold a family breakfast in the guild hall after an 8 o'clock mass read by the Rev. Father Russel, Oshkosh. Palms will be blessed and distributed before the service. Bible classes will not be held Sunday.

The blessing of palms will precede a 7:15 high mass celebrated at St. Augustine Catholic church by the Rev. Roland Ahearn. Other masses will be said at 9:15 and 11:15 Sunday.

The senior choir of the Kiel will meet at 9 o'clock. Adult Bible classes have been adjourned for the day.

At St. Mary's Catholic church masses will be said at 5 o'clock, 7:30 and 11:15 Sunday morning. A high mass at which palms will be blessed and distributed will be sung at 9:10 Sunday morning by the Rev. Joseph Bartelme. The time will be 20 minutes earlier than the usual schedule.

Communion Plans

Members of Joan of Arc circle, Daughters of Isabella, will receive corporate communion at the 7:30 mass at St. Mary's. Classes for instruction of high school students will not meet Monday evening, nor on April 7.

Five students will be confirmed at Ebenezer Evangelical and Reformed church at a 10 o'clock service Sunday morning. The Rev. Quentin Moeschberger, Sunday morning. He has chosen "The Little Children Sang" as his sermon.

Sunday school classes will meet at 9 o'clock, but the jun-
